THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 15, 1869.

THE FRENCH CABLE.

Following is the substance of a communication of the Secretary of State, copies of which have been addressed to the French and British Ministers at Washington and the Governor of Massachusetts, relative to the proposed landing of the French Telegraphic Cable in Duxbury:

After reciting the facts in regard to the origin and proposed course of the Cable Company in landing the Cable on the American coast, the Secretary states that it is not doubted by the Government that complete control of the whole subject is with the Government of the United States, and that however suitable State legislation may be on the subject, in respect of its proprietary rights in aid of such enterprises, the entire question of allowance or prohibition of such means of foreign intercourse is under the control of the National government. The Cable Company not having received or awaited permission of the government, either to the establishment or use of such cable connections, the Secretary considers it proper to call the attention of the diplomatic representatives of the two nations interested to the position of the Government on the question. He notifies the diplomatic representatives of France and Great Britain, that in the absence of the assent or concurrence of the Government of the United States, the proceedings of the parties interested must be taken in submission to the authority of the Government in the premises. The Secretary further states that the policy of the Government in regard to the allowance and regulations of foreign telegraphic intercourse received deliberate consideration from Congress, and that a bill covering the whole subject was passed in the Senate, but at so late a day in the session that the House of Representatives failed to reach it. He says it is quite probable that this bill announces the policy and purpose of Congress, and the propriety of its provisions can hardly fail to assure assent. He therefore calls attention to the bill as probable evidence of what conditions of permission and regulations of foreign telegraphic intercourse are to be insisted upon by the United States.

LEFT THE CITY.

The President left Washington this afternoon with his wife and children, and Postmaster General Cresswell and wife, and Ex-Secretary of the Navy Borie, for Long Branch. They will stop three hours at Fortress Monroe and one day at Cape May. The President will be absent from the city ten days or two weeks, and will return hither, leaving his family there.

TEXAS ELECTION ORDERED.

The President to-day issued a proclamation designating the 30th of November as the time for submitting the Constitution adopted by the Convention which met in Austin, Texas, on the 15th of June, to the voters of said State registered at the time of said submission. The separate submission of any of the provisions is not ordered by the President.

THE HABEAS CORPUS CASE.

The counsel in the Yerger habeas corpus case had not, at 9 o'clock to-night, received any notification from Chief Justice Chase as to his opinion upon the application. The Chief Justice will leave Washington to-morrow morning to attend the commencement of Dartmoth College, of which he is a graduate.

PERSONAL.

Judge Richardson, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, returned to Washington this morning. Commissioner Delano will return on Monday next.

APPOINTMENTS.

Edward Ferguson has been appointed Pension Agent at Milwaukee and Henry L. Jones Receiver of Public Moneys at New Orleans.

PERU CLAIMS.

Michael Vidal, of Louisiana, has been appointed a Commissioner on the part of the United States, under the Convention with Peru, for the adjustment of claims of citizens of either country.

NEW YORK CITY.

Sanborn, the Defaulter—Gunboats Fitting Out—East River Bridge—Usury Indictments—Precaution Against Filibusters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 15, 1869.

It is stated that W. H. Sanford, the defaulting Cashier of the Central National Bank, left Boston last week for Europe.

An oil car on the Erie Railroad took fire and burned in Bergen tunnel to-day.

The steam gunboats Severn, Hartford, Washonda, Detroit, Colorado and Swatara are fitting out rapidly at the navy yard here for immediate service.

A steam tug sunk at Hoboken to-day drowning Chas. Van Orden, engineer.

Peter Bauta, a boy who had his throat partially cut and his ear cut off by a negro named Carpenter, last week, died yesterday.

Bigelow, who murdered his niece, was hung at Monticello, this State, to-day.

The survey for the East River bridge has been completed and materials are being prepared for the abutments on the river shore.

Eleven indictments have been found by the Grand Jury against prominent bankers and brokers for violating the usury laws. The arrests will probably be made to-morrow.

In the case of Fisk vs. the Wabash Railroad, a number of the directors of the road were examined to-day in the Supreme Court for contempt. J. H. Coleman has been appointed receiver of nineteen certificates, said to be deposited here. The case was adjourned till to-morrow.

District Attorney Pierrepont has been authorized by the President to call on all the military and naval forces here to prevent the departure of a Cuban expedition said to be about ready to leave this port. He has taken measures, with the naval officials and the military in forts, to obey his instructions.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Collision on the Erie Road in Pike County, Pa.—Nine or Ten Persons Killed—A Clergyman Burned Alive in Full View of His Friends—Disappearance of the Engineer at Fault.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 15.—Officers of the Erie Railway furnish the following account of the accident at Mount Hope:

The through freight bound west backed on the switch to get out of the way of the night express from New York, but did not clear the main track before the latter struck. The two engines collided, upsetting the engine, mail, express, baggage and smoking cars of the train, all of which were burned. There were some emigrants in the smoking car, five or six of whom were killed, and three bodies burned. Rev. B. B. Halleck, of 329 East Fourteenth street, New York, was in the car and was burned to death. So far as known six or seven were killed. The passengers were transferred to another train and sent forward at 9 A. M.

Further accounts of the disaster state that Rev. Mr. Halleck was not hurt by the collision, but was jammed in by the broken timbers and slowly burned to death.

A passenger states that the freight train, which should have awaited on a side track on the left of the road this side of the station, had started on before the arrival of the express. The engine of the former had not reached the main track when it was struck by the locomotive of the express train, which was running at the rate of forty miles an hour. The engine of the freight train was standing on a frog so firmly fixed that it was not misp aced. The engine of the express train struck the station house, to which it set fire, and then turned round and went off the track left, headed east. The tender went to the right, headed west. The express car went down the hill towards the river. The first passenger car telescoped into the baggage car. The whole train was burnt, except the three rear sleeping cars. Only a dozen pieces of baggage were saved. The freight engine stood locked into a passenger car. After a vain effort to put out the flames with water, carried from the river, the passengers moved the freight cars east. Two cars were moved at a time. Many of them were loaded with oil. At half-past one o'clock this morning there was no engine at the scene of the accident. Some were suffering terribly from their injuries and some were past all pain.

At six o'clock this morning nine bodies were counted. Several distressing scenes of suffering occurred, and there were some remarkable escapes. The engineer of the express train stood bravely at his post, and turned over several times with his engine, but fortunately escaped injury. Rev. Mr. Halleck told his brother-in-law he was not hurt at all, but was wedged in. His fellow passengers used every effort to save him, but he died a slow, agonizing death, in the presence of sympathising friends, who were unable to help him. A young German said his father was burned, and when the ruins of the smoking car were removed, he recognized the remains of his father by his watch and some coins.

The fault of the disaster is attributed to the engineer of the freight train, who started out before the express train passed him. He has disappeared.

A German lost his wife and three children. He escaped without injury.

The through mail and registered letters for Cleveland were destroyed. The way mail was saved through the exertions of the agents, Messrs. Spencer and Nicholson.

The scene of the catastrophe is in Pike county, Pennsylvania, about seven miles west of Carr's Rock, and about ten rods from the Delaware river. At the right of the track going west there is a rocky declivity of about fifteen feet.

PORT JERVIS, July 15.—The following is a list of the killed and wounded at the accident on the Erie Railroad this morning:

Killed—Rev. B. B. Halleck, of New York, David Baer, a German emigrant, a German woman and children, names unknown, and several others, whose charred bodies have not been identified.

Wounded—Charles Baer, German emigrant travelling West, only slightly wounded: his father, David Baer, was killed and burned in the smoking car; Gotfried Graus, German emigrant, had small bone in leg broken. There are no other serious injuries reported. Mr. D. Wentworth, of Randolph, New York, was bruised in the back and hurt internally. John Flowers, of New York city, bound for La Crosse, Wisconsin, was bruised and injured in his back, but not dangerously. Jno. Hunt had his leg broken below the knee; he was jammed in between the seats and held fast until the flames had almost reached him before he was rescued; he resides at Waterford, New York.

In addition to the above the following train men were injured: David Smith, flagman on freight train, slightly; P. D. Schuyler, express messenger, cut in forehead and slightly bruised: Perry Hoyt, Port Jervis, Chas. Coffee, of New York, Erastus Whiton, and Lawrence Pedrick were slightly injured.

Only those persons in the smoking car were burned. The baggage car, smoking car, two sleeping cars and two passenger cars were consumed by the flames.

HAVANA, July 15.—Gen. Behavenia, President of the Havana Railroad, has been arrested and will sail for Spain to-morrow.

Notaries have received orders not to record sales of confiscated property in certain districts, as a precautionary measure to prevent its destruction by the rebels.

The volunteers last night serenaded Gens. Gerrera, Canto and Lesca.

Three recent engagements are reported, in which the rebels were defeated. No particulars are given.

Storm at Huntingdon, Pa.—Two Men Drowned.

HUNTINGDON, July 15.—A terrific storm raged here yesterday afternoon. Two men, named Barney Farrell and Cornelius Dacy, whilst sitting under a schute at a coal wharf, a mile from town, were stunned by the lightning, and falling forward into the canal were drowned. During the storm a smoke house in the eastern and a stable in the western part of the town were struck by the lightning. A telegraph pole was also struck and the flash entered the office of the Western line, but did no damage.

The Irish Church Disestablishment Bill Again Before the House of Commons—Lords Amendments Considered and Rejected—The "Times" Advocates the Sale of Cuba to the United States—Affairs in France—Tumults in Austria—Quickest Trip on Record Across the Atlantic, by the Russia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 15.—Midnight.—In the House of Commons, this evening, the Irish Church bill, as amended in the House of Lords, came up for consideration. There was a full attendance of members, and the galleries were crowded with spectators.

Mr. Gladstone, on rising, was greeted with loud cheers by the Liberalists, and by derisive shouts from the Tory benches. He said with respect to the amendments which had been made to the bill, that the government proposed to restore the preamble and date of disestablishment as they appeared in the original bill. They should agree to the amendments relating to curates' annuities, to the protection of annuities, with some modifications; but all other amendments they should oppose, with the single exception of the grant of the half lien private benefactions made before 1660.

Mr. D'Israeli followed. He said that although the abstract principles of the bill had been repeatedly discussed, there had been little discussion on the details of its provisions. He hoped that the amendments made in the House of Lords would receive the calm consideration of the Commons.

Mr. Gladstone then moved that the House disagree to the preamble as amended. He thought the concurrent endowment which the Lords had in view, a very digerent scheme from that of Mr. Pitt, which contemplated an established Catholic church, side by side with the established church, and under State control. Concurrent endowment, as now understood, was totally opposed to the principles of the bill, and was of such a character as to be entirely opposed to the spirit of the time. If the House could be induced to agree to it, it was certain that the country, especially large constituencies, would never sanction it. He strongly advocated the appropriation of the surplus funds as originally proposed, with a proviso reserving to Parliament the control over them.

Mr. D'Israeli thought the House ought to agree to the amended preamble. He asserted that the House of Lords did not desire the reservation of the surplus for the purposes of concurrent endowment, and indicated the plan for its appropriation. He hoped the House would prevent such a waste of public funds, and not allow them to be dealt with in this loose and vague manner.

Mr. Ball, member for Dublin University, thought the restoration of the original preamble would be fatal to many advantages secured to the church by the Lords.

Mr. Bright admitted that at a former time he had proposed something like the present scheme of concurrent endowment, but he declared that the public feeling was now totally opposed to religious endowments, and no Ministry would be able carry such a scheme. He felt that all the plans, save the one originally proposed by the bill, were so full of difficulties that it would be idle to discuss them.

Sir Roundell Palmer said, although not a supporter of concurrent endowment, he considered that under the circumstances grants for residences to clergymen of the great majority could not be refused out of that fund, which, contrary to his ideas, they had declared was wrongfully taken from the great majority and used for the religious purposes of the minority. Unless some proposal of this kind was agreed to, they would never establish religious equality, or satisfy the expectations of the Irish. They should not allow their anti-Catholic prejudices to refuse this small boon to the great majority.

The House then divided, and the amendment of the House of Lords with respect to endowment was disagreed to by a vote of 346 against 222. Majority for the government 124.

The amendment in regard to the appropriation of the surplus funds was also disagreed to by a vote of 246 against 164.

Mr. Gladstone then moved the restoration of the original date, namely, the first day of January, 1871, for the dissolution of the legislative union between the Churches of England and Ireland, and after some discussion the date was restored without a division.

The House then adjourned.

LONDON, July 14.—There is reliable authority for stating that the offer of the Glebists Catholic Priesthood will be respectfully declined by the Church, on the grounds, first, that it is opposed to the discipline of the Church; secondly, that the proposition is unfair and insufficient as a just equalization between the religious communities of Ireland, considering the disproportion of members, even if it were admissible under the Church's regulation.

The Royal Cork Yatch Club and the Royal Yatch Club of Ireland, tendered hospitalities to the owner of the Dauntless and his friends during their stay at Queenstown. The Duantless left last evening for Havre. The reception which the American sailors met with has been enthusiastic.

LONDON, July 15.—The Times, in an article on the Cuban question, says: The progress of Spain toward an enlightened commercial policy will soon become a necessity, and with a more liberal tariff system it will be difficult for her home produce to compete with American, and she will be unable any longer to monopolize the markets of the Antilles. Under these circumstances, Cuba will become useless to Spain, and pride alone can lead her to hold on to a dominion which is disputed in the teeth of the best Spanish troops. Gen. Prim and other statesmen are convinced that the separation of Cuba is only a question of time. National honor prevents Spain from taking such step as long as insurrection prevails, but when the Island is pacified, the natural dictates of reason ought to be listened to. Cuba is valuable. Spain wants cash, and a purchaser is at hand. Should the Island be canvassed, a plebiscitum would result in favor of annexation to the United States. The only serious question is, can the Americans at this moment afford to purchase. It is for the advantage of both hemispheres that each should follow its own course, untrammeled by the interference of others. Spain, Russia and Denmark may well consent to sell the remainder of their trans-Atlantic possessions. It is only fortunate that Spain has anything left to sell.

In the international rifle match on Wimbleton Common, the riflemen of Scotland were victorious, beating those of England and Ireland.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 15.—The French journals comment unfavorably on the prorogation of the Corps Legislatif before the verification of the elections was completed. The Government is accused of closing the Chamber with the design of stifling discussion. The session will probably be resumed on the 20th of August.

It is rumored that Prince Napoleon is to be made President of the Council of Ministers, M. Baroche President of the Senate, and M. De Miral a Senator, while M. Rouher will become a candidate for the vacant seat in the Corps Legislatif.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, July 15.—Several tumults took place this week among the workingmen at Brunn. The military were called out to suppress the riot, and fired upon the mob, killing two and wounding twelve. The crowds have dispersed, but great excitement still prevails there, and the authorities are taking every precaution to prevent a threatened renewal of the disorder.

SPAIN.

MADRID, July 15.—In the Cortes yesterday, Marshal Prim introduced the new Ministers and remarked that the present Cabinet was constituted from a majority and though the men had been changed, the Government was unchanged. The Republican deputies replied, making a severe attack on the Government policy.

THE FRENCH CABLE.

Shore End Spliced—Communication With France—Message to Napoleon.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. PIERRE, July 14.—The ocean cable was spliced to the shore end to-day by the steamer William Corry. The cause of the failure to splice yesterday was the loss of the shore end. The buoy was easily found, but when taken up it was discovered that the cable had become detached, and it was, therefore, necessary to grapple for it. Directly after the splice was made, instruments and a full staff of operators were sent on shore and communication was soon opened with Brest. The Commander of the Great Eastern brought with him a sealed message, prepared by the Emperor Napoleon, the purport of which was to remain secret until it was opened on this side of the Atlantic upon the completion of the cable, when the message was to be sent to the Emperor, in order that he might judge of the accuracy of its transmission. Messages were sent to France to-day.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Herald's Washington dispatch says: With the exception of the opinion of Attorney General Hoar and the letters addressed to the French and British Ministers by Secretary Fish, no action has been taken by the Government to prevent the landing of the French cable on the coast of Massachusetts. Secretary Boutwell has not, as reported, ordered a Revenue Cutter to proceed to the point where they proposed to land the cable on United States territory, and prevent it, nor is it likely any such course will be pursued. This matter was pending in Congress at the adjournment, and will probably be left to that body to settle it.

The Labor Convention at Memphis.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, July 15.—The Mississippi Valley Immigration Company was organized in the Labor Convention to-day. Forty thousand dollars was subscribed on the spot. The capital stock is to be one million, with the privilege to double the amount, in shares of one hundred dollars each. Committees were appointed to open subscription books in Louisiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas. General G. Pillow, S. W. Clapp, W. H. Sherry and Arch. Wright were appointed on the Executive Committee. The Convention ordered thirty thousand copies of their proceedings printed. After a vote of thanks to Hon. I. C. Harris the Convention adjourned sine die.

LOUISVILLE.

Colored Educational Convention—Base Ball—Suicide.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 15.—The State Colored Educational Convention met this morning. A petition was drawn up and adopted, memorializing the Legislature of Kentucky to take the necessary steps towards the establishment of schools throughout the State for the education of colored children. The proceedings were harmonious throughout.

The base ball match this afternoon between the Kentuckys, of Louisville, and the Red Stockings, Jr., of Cincinnati, resulted in a tie. The score stood 28 to 28.

Robert Gillespie, an employe of a tobacco warehouse, shot himself this afternoon, the ball entering the left breast and lodging between the lungs and heart, from the effect of which he will die. No cause is assigned for the suicide.

ST. LOUIS.

Insurance on Railroad Property—More Sugar Seized—The Heated Term.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 15.—The South Pacific Railroad Company have $200,000 insurance on all their property on the line of the road, but exactly how much was placed on property destroyed at Franklin is not known. This insurance consists of four policies of $50,000 each in New York and Boston Companies, but the officers of the road decline to give their names.

Some three hundred additional hogsheads of sugar were seized to-day by Government officials for alleged nonpayment of duty.

The heated term still continues and the heat increases to-day. Mercury 86 at 9 A. M., 96 at noon, and 100 at 3 P. M., with a clear sky and fine breeze.

Counterfeiters Arrested at Cincinnati.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 15.—Deputies of United States Marshal Hickenlooper today arrested Mrs. Roberts, her two sons, and two other persons, for dealing in counterfeit United States currency. The parties were taken in the act of selling this spurious money, and eleven thousand dollars was found in their possession and captured, of which five thousand was in twenty dollar bills, four thousand in ten dollar bills, and the remainder in fifty cent pieces, all well executed. Mrs. Roberts was before the United States Commissioner, and was held in eight thousand dollars to appear to-morrow for further examination. Her sons and the other two parties were held in three thousand dollars each. Mrs. Roberts is about fifty years of age. These parties have been suspected of being engaged in this business for some time.

Revenue Frauds at New Orleans.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—Deputy Surveyor Keith was released from custody to-day, having given the Custom officers valuable information.

Coulawrie, who was released this morning on $5,000 bonds, was re-arrested this afternoon. He gave bonds to the same amount. A second warrant has been issued for the arrest of Coulawrie's partner, Adolph Fowrie, who cannot be found to-day. Another warrant has also been issued for the sampler, Halton, who is now under bonds from a previous arrest.

—Walker Welsh, a sub-contractor on the Poughkeepsie and Eastern Railroad, has absconded with $7,000, and leaving a heavy indebtedness, amounting, it is estimated, to over $30,000. The merchants and business men of all classes are swindled in sums ranging from $25,000 to $30,000. The laborers on the road, near Pleasant Valley, are highly excited and trouble is anticipated. The Company will, however, pay them their wages.

—The Commencement exercises of the Wesleyan University at Middletown, Connecticut, took place yesterday. The following honorary degrees were conferred: Master of Arts on Rev. Jas. M. Buckley, John B. Foote, Isaiah D. King, Hebron Vincent, Ezra Dyer Winslow; L. L. D. on Judge Robert Carter Pittman, of Massachusetts; D. D. on Daniel Avery Wheaton; Doctor of Music on Eben Tourjee, organizer of the Choruses at the Peace Jubilee in Boston.

—A Richmond (Va.) dispatch says When General Canby commanded in North and South Carolina, in 1867, the reconstruction elections were held, and he not only inaugurated Governor Holden immediately, but directed that the members elect of the Legislature be admitted to their seats without taking the test oath. According to his own construction, Governor Walker, of Virginia, should be inaugurated immediataly, and the test oaths for members of the Virginia Legislature should be suspended.

—The engine house, machine shop, blacksmith and one or two other buildings, together with four locomotives, two of which were new, two new passenger cars, several water tanks and a large lot of new trucks and other material belonging to the South Pacific R. R., at Franklin, Missouri, were burned Wednesday night. The buildings destroyed were worth about $25,000, and the other property was either destroyed or suffered damage to such an extent as to swell the total loss to from $60,000 to $70 000, which is partly insured in eastern offices.

—Mr. Merritt, of Elmira, New York while traveling between Cheyenne and Omaha, last week, fell in with a counterfeiter who endeavored to pass a $2 dollar counterfeit bill on him. Merrit subsequently obtained the confidence of the counterfeiter, and the result was the capture, near Madison, Wisconsin, of two notorious counterfeiters, and the seizure of a large quantity of counterfeit bank notes, plates, dies, presses, etc. The counterfeiters arrested were taken to Washington, and detectives are on the track of the rest of the gangs. The arrests and seizures are said to be the most important made for several years.

THE DOOR-STEP.

BY E. C. STEDMAN.

The conference meeting through at last.
We boys round the vestry waited
To see the girls come tripping past,
Like snow-birds waiting to be mated.

Not braver he that leaps the wall
By level musket flashes litten,
Than I, who stepped before them all,
Who longed to see me get the mitten.

But no, she blushed and took my arm!
We let the old folks take the highway,
And started toward the Maple Farm,
Along a kind of lovers' by-way.

I can't remember what we said,
'Twas nothing worth a song or story,
Yet that rude path by which we sped
Seemed all transformed and in a glory.

The snow was crisp beneath our feet,
The moon was full, the fields were gleaming;
By hood and tippet sheltered sweet
Her face with youth and health was beaming.

The little hand outside her muff,
O, sculptor, if you could but mold it!
So lightly touched my jacket cuff,
To keep it warm I had to hold it.

To have her with me there alone,
'Twas love and fear and triumph blended;
At last we reached the foot-worn stone
Where that delicious journey ended.

She shook her ringlets from her brow,
And with a "Thank you, Ned," dissembled,
But yet I knew she understood
With what a daring wish I trembled.

A cloud passed kindly overhead,
The moon was slowly peeping through it,
Yet hid its face, as it it said,
"Come now, or never! do it! do it!"

My lips till then had only known
The kiss of mother and of sister,
But, somehow, full upon her own
Sweet, rosy, darling mouth—I kissed her.

Perhaps 'twas boyish love, yet, still,
O, listless woman! weary lover!
To feel once more that fresh, wild thrill
I'd give—but who can live life over.

—The Portland Natural History Society has just been presented with a long smooth-bore gun, which was taken at the capture of Louisburg, June 17, 1745, by Captain Moses Pearson. On the lock is engraved the name of the maker, Chappis, of St. Etienne. Accompanying the gun is a powder-horn, curiously carved, bearing the name of the owner, Joshua Freeman, March 27, 1767. This powder-horn is presumed to have been made by the celebrated scout Joe Wier, who was in the habit of stopping at Freeman's house, which stood in Westbrook.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BRUNSWICK, MAINE, July 13, 1869.

This is the location of Bowdoin College, so called in honor of Gov. Bowdoin, of Massachusetts, an institution nearly three-fourths of a century old, and which numbers among its alumni many men distinguished as statesmen, poets, orators and divines. She is the mother of Fessenden, ex-President Pierce, of Longfellow, Dr. Hamblin, of Constantinople, Dr. H. B. Smith, of New York, Cheever, and many others. Here for half a century the eloquent and learned Cleveland, the father of Minerology in this country, delighted the students in Chemistry and Natural History. Here Newman wrote on Rhetoric and Political Economy, Smith on Mathematics, and Upham on Mental Science, Disordered Mental Action, and many other subjects. Drs. Goodwin and Allen, of Philadelphia, here received their education.

The buildings are many and good. The chapel, of granite, is one of the finest in the country. The Medical College is new and convenient. A Memorial Hall, worthy the object, is now being erected.

Under the new President the College has received fresh life. Mr. Boody, of New York, one of its former graduates and Professors, has given to it about $60,000.

An able Baccalaureate was given by the President, the 4th inst. The Prize Declamation last evening. To-day the address before the Literary Societies is to be given by Rev. C. C. Everett, of Bangor. This is the occasion of the year for Brunswick. The hotels and private houses are filled. People come from all parts of the State and from other States. The beauty and fashion of the region here congregate at this time; so do the men of learning and high official position. The brave and accomplished Governor Chamberlain is here—the next as well as present Governor.

The interest attending our literary festivals at this season of the year is exceedingly gratifying, and are a hopeful sign for our country, as its life and prospesity depend on our intelligence and morals. "New Haven is full of people," says a correspondent. Of Vassar College another says: "So a literary flavor abounds and the atmosphere of culture is growing. Already it seems to leaven the social element, putting business and mere fashion in the second category, and suggesting scholarship and science as the future prevalent and polite pass words." From Cornell University we learn that "there was a large attendance from all parts of the State." "A distinguished audience, including many prominent in official and social circles," attended the annual commencement of Georgetown College. President Grant did not consider it beneath his high position to attend these exercises. And a striking fact stated was "that every President of the United States, from General Washington to General Grant, had honored the College with their presence, and assisted on similar occasions." The Academy of Music was crowded with a gaily-dressed audience of both sexes at the commencement exercises of the College of the city of New York. So we might go on and fill your columns with similar references to numerous other Colleges and Seminaries.

Pittsburgh, our busy and rapidly growing city, also has an increasing interest in these exercises. More and more intelligent and influential men and women attend them. Our students are encouraged—a higher degree of scholarship is attained, and more young men are willing to go through a full course of study. The people are being educated, and soon we may hope to hear of Cornell's, Drew's, Packer's and Vassar's there.

As this beautiful village is twenty-five miles from Portland, where the Young Men's Christian Association meets today, I cannot give you the prospects there, but shall endeavor to be there a part of the session.

Fast Living.

Fast living is an active and fascinating habit, particulary to the young. There are few warm blooded young men who would not live fast if they could afford to. The lack of means alone restrains them. It seems so delightful to rattle over the pleasant first ten miles of adult life, from twenty to thirty, at a two-forty pace, rather than jog along at a rate that permits all the fast teams to pass you, But old men think differently. They know that the fast liver rattles away his bloom and youth, before he is ready to part with it, and becomes old, while his plodding companion of the same age is still young. He goes up the ascent with the speed and dash of a fleet roadster; but he goes down the decline on the other side with the speed of a galloping consumption. He gathers and consumes his harvest of life's pleasures and joys, long before they are ripe, and like children who have gorged themselves with green fruit, he is compelled to suffer pains and pangs, the penalty of the transgressions. He grows old and weary and querulous in spirit and habit, while he is still young in years. There are wrinkles on his face; there are twitches in his joints; there are angry and painful swellings on his knuckles; his hands quake, and his limbs totter; and he hobbles down the home stretch, an object of pity to those whom he dazzled with the brilliancy of his first setting out, and filled with remorseful reflections over the folly which squandered the riches of life in youth, and left no strength of muscle nor warmth of blood to cheer and sustain him in dismal winter.

If the young man is wise, he will be content to go slow up the scent, and husband his vigor of body and mire for the latter part of the race. The innate joys of youth, its hope and buoyancy and freedom from care may suffice for that period of life, without the fierce excesses and profligacies which make up fast living. Temperance and moderation to the young appear insipid and prosey; but they are conservators of the power which the young will need when they become old. To lay up money for old age is esteemed the hight of worldly wisdom; but to carry the innocence and freshness, and some of the vigor and health of youth into old age, is a wiser and better thing siill.

The Grape Crop.

After careful inquiry and examination of the fruit itself, we are able to report that if from this time on until the harvest the weather remains warm and dry, the grape crop will be better than half a crop. We saw very many bunches of Catawbas at Put-in-Bay, yesterday, mor or less mildewed. Some bunches were entirely covered. Some of the vines were well loaded with clean bunches, while other vines will prove worthless. The weather, Thursday night, was decidedly bad, and did considerable damage. The Concords are in the best condition, although somewhat injured. Should we have a continuance of such weather as we had last week, or Thursday and Thursday night of this week, the crops of all varieties will be about ruined. Now the crop does not promise very well, and yet by no means as bad many of the growers assert. We think the Islanders are overdespondent, bad as matters are. On Put-in-Bay the stems are filled pretty well. On Kelley's Island there is a greater lack of well filled stems. On the former island the mildew is the worst feature; on the latter, what one grower calls the milk rot is as bad as the mildew. We can only hope for dry, warm weather from this on until the crop is matured, when we shall have better than half a crop, and, owing to the extra fine condition of the vines in early spring, a good stock of grapes. The growers are despondent enough, but we trust their worst fears will not be realized.—Sandusky (O.) Register, July 10.

Street Etiquette—Walking with Ladies

Only villagers or persons with rural ideas any longer contend that ladies should always be given the inside of the pavement in passing. The rule adopted the cities is to turn to the right, whether the right leads to the wall or to the gutter, and an observance of this commonsense rule would obviate much unpleasant "scrouging" by over-gallant gentlemen who persistently crowd for the outside of the walk. Another common custom, and required by fashionable etiquette, and one which is nearly as inexplicable and absurd, is the practice of a whole string of men filing out of a church pew, making themselves as ridiculous as an "awkward squad" practicing at "catching step," in order to give a woman the wrong end of a pew, is that of a man when on a promenade or walk with a lady, to keep himself on the outside of the pavement. A little exercise of judgment will convince any person of the utter uselessness of this bobbing back and forth at every corner. The common rule is this: "If a man and woman are walking, she should always be at his right arm, whether it be toward the inside or outside of the walk; then the woman will not be shoved against the passers."

Physioghomy.

It is said that any nose which is less than the height of the forehead is an indication of detective intellectual power. The eyes indicate character rather by their color than form. The dark blue are found most commonly in persons of a gentle and refined character, light blue and gray in the rude and energetic. Lavater says: "Hazel eyes are the more usual indications of a mind masculine, vigorous and profound; just as genius, properly so called, is almost always associated with eyes of a yellowish cast, bordering on the hazel." The higher the brows rise the more their possesor is supposed to be under the influence of feeling, and the lower the better controlled by his reason. A very small eyebrow is an indication of want of force of character. A tolerably large mouth is essential to vigor and energy, and a very small one is indicative of weakness and indolence. In a manly face the upper lip should extend beyond and dominate the lower. Fleshy lips are often found associated with voluptuous and meagre ones with a passionless nature. The retreating chin indicates weakness; the perpendicular, strength; and the sharp, acuteness of mind.

AT ST. CLOUD, the other day, a man named Wm. Moorhead was performing with a darning needle, putting it up one nostril and drawing it out of the other; putting it up his nostril and drawing it out of his mouth, etc. While going through these operations, the needle actually did go up one nostril beyond his control. The poor fellow dropped on the floor, on all fours and commenced spitting blood and bellowing. Dr. Senkler was sent for, and performed the balance of the trick by forcing the needle into his throat and taking it out of his mouth.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of Venereal and private diseases, and can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while to others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY July 15, 1869.

The market has recovered somewhat from the stagnation which prevailed yesterday, as there was a stronger feeling to-day, and rather more inquiry though prices are without quotable change. Dispatches report a new well on Shamberg, which, at last accounts, was producing at the rate of 280 bbls per day; this will stiffen up the Shamberg farm considerably, and will infuse new life in developing wells in that locality. Last season Shamberg was considered, with the exception perhaps of Pleasantville, the best producing district in the oil regions; recently, however, it appeared to be giving out and operators generally thought that its best days had passed. With a single exception, this we understand, is the biggest strike that has been made this season.

CRUDE.

Market steady, and if anything a shade firmer, and there appears to be rather more inquiry; compared with yesterday, prices have undergone no change. Sale 2,000 seller all year, at 14; 2,000 July at 14½; 1,000 seller September to December, at 14, and 1,000 August, at 14¾. There were offers from Oil City, to sell at 14½, delivered here, which was considered equivalent to $5,65@5,70 per bbl there.

REFINED.

Sales 1,000 spot, at 31; 500 do, at 31¾; 1,000 July, on private terms; 500 August, at 32½; 500 September, at 33; and 500 August, at 32¼, and 500 September, at 33—sold together. As in the case of crude, the market was rather firmer, though as will be seen by reference to the sales above noted, prices, compared with yesterday, have undergone no quotable change.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary at this point all day yesterday, and with over five feet and rising in the Allegheny at Oil City, we may look for a rise of a foot or so here within the next twenty-four hours. The weather yesterday was very oppressive, the mercury in the shade having risen to 97.

No arrivals or departures to report aside from packets.

"Barranquilla" is the name selected for the new boat now being built by Capt. J. S. Stockdale, for some parties in South America. The hull will, it is expected, be launched about this day week.

The Kenton from Portsmouth, was due last night, and will depart again to-day, as usual at 4 P. M.

The Bellevernon, Capt. J. J. Darragh, Jr., did not get off for St. Louis yesterday, but will probably get off to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

R. C. Wallace, of the firm of McKee & Co., glass manufacturers, and well-known in steamboat circles, died suddenly yesterday, at his residence in Birmingham, of a severe attack of cholera morbus.

—The Messenger arrived at St. Paul last Friday.

—The Kate Putnam and Belle were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

—The towboat Alps, bound up with a heavy tow of empty barges, broke both of her main hog-chains near West Franklin, and was towed to Evansville by the Cumberland.

—The Armadillo, which was compelled to go on the docks after lying at Cincinnati two weeks, will not reship her freight received for New Orleans, but will complete her trip after necessary repairs.

—A Cairo special to the Cincinnati Commercial says: Wm. Hamilton, formerly engineer on the Underwriter, went to work yesterday with a corps of assistants to put the machinery of six monitors in order at Mound City. Rumor says they will be immediately sold to Chili or Peru.

—L. B. Boomer, the Chicago bridge builder, met the Board of Directors of the Leavenworth Bridge Company, Monday morning, at Leavenworth, when satisfactory arrangements were concluded for the immediate construction of a bridge over that point. Work will be commenced on both sides of the river this week.

—Arrangements have been made by the Illinois River Improvement Commissioners for the improvement of the little Wabash. It consists of a lock and dam at New Haven, and will be readily completed without exhausting the $35,000 appropriated last winter. When done, slack water navigation will be secured to Carmi, about forty miles.

—St. Louis is trying to revive the Red river trade. The Democrat says: A considerable stir was created last year by the advent of a couple of steamers in the direct trade of St. Louis with the ports and landings on Red river. We hear that the enterprise will be revived shortly, for the fall trade, and that the Shreve will be the first to engage in the really important enterprise.

—Wm. E. Wellington, Superintendent of the White Collar Line of Dubuque, is traveling. Fifteen years ago this summer, "Bill" Weldington left Massachusetts for the West, and landed at Dubuque with fifteen cents in his pocket—all the money he had. He took the first job that was offered—not waiting for "something to turn up"—and drove dray that season for a warehouse man. To-day he is worth at least $100,000. Ten years ago he bought his parents a comfortable, cosy home, and has supported them well ever since.

—The St. Joseph Herald, of Sunday, says: The Colossal, from Fort Benton, arrived in port last evening, and will leave this morning for St. Louis. She brings no information of importance from the upper river. She had considerable trouble owing to the low water, and her officers are of the opinion that the boats still above will have more trouble. The Indians have not as yet interfered with the steamboatmen. The Mollie Ervart, from the upper river, arrived in port yesterday morning, and left for St. Louis. She had but little freight on board.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 49¼f.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 87⅛@87¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 136¾.

IT IS reported that the editor of the Pittsburgh Post has secluded himself at Cape May, to ruminate upon the Democratic situation.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION was generally conceded to Mr. CASS, until the arrival of the Philadelphia delegation. This exemplary body of citizens protested so bitterly against the nomination of a man who would, as Governor, grant no pardons to their convicted rascals, that the party yielded, throwing overboard our fellow-citizen and taking up a more compliant tool.

CALMLY and peacefully sank to rest on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. ELIZABETH GRAFF, a lady whose many noble qualities of head and heart rendered her conspicuous among women. She was the widow of HENRY GRAFF, Esq., who, at one time, occupied front place among our leading and most progressive and enterprizing business men. The deceased marked her life with many unostentatious deeds of charity, was kind and friendly to the friendless, generous to the poor, and a consistent, faithful Christian, adhering firmly and rigidly to the Lutheran religion, with the consolation of which, she quietly passed into life everlasting, while surrounded by her family and friends. Her funeral will take place this morning at ten o'clock.

THE TROUBLE with the new French Cable is that our Government claims the exclusive jurisdiction of the space intervening between low-water mark and the line of a marine league in distance seaward therefrom. The Federal authority has not yet granted any concession whatever to the proprietors of the new Cable, and will not do so, until greater readiness for reciprocity shall be manifested by the Company and by the French Government. It is also to be an indispensible condition that the telegraph company shall be bound by the legislation of Congress. The matter is now under negotiation by the diplomatists at Washington. From low-water mark landward, the needful authority has already been obtained from the legislature of Massachusetts. The detention of the expedition at the French island of St. Pierre is thus accounted for. There is no question of the complete success of the trans-Atlantic work. The cable has been well laid and its American end has been safely landed on the island.

There can be no doubt as to the duty of our own authorities to require such conditions of the Cable Company as shall place the line, in respect of jurisdiction and business, equally under responsibility to the two Governments. In the case of any trans-Atlantic line, there are considerations of State policy which must not be overlooked. It is reasonable to expect the adjustment of all these points with small delay.

CORRUPTION SCORNED.

We understand that all the numerous propositions for the disbursement of cash, to secure a majority vote in the forthcoming Democratic Convention at Harrisburg, have been for months past steadily and sternly declined by Mr. G. W. CASS and his friends. If the fact be correctly stated, it reflects the highest honor upon the now defeated aspirant. Three months hence, as now, he will find his position vastly more satisfactory than that of his unscrupulous rival. The present disappointment of his wishes is not to be wondered at. In any Convention of the Pennsylvania Democracy, a serious contest, between money on one side and naked principle even backed by meritorious services on the other, is always entirely out of the question. That Mr. CASS has for a quarter of a century, headed the forlorn hope of his party in this Whig and Republican section of the Commonwealth, fighting purely for his principles without the faintest show of remuneration in local successes, seems to have weighed for nothing in his favor with a State Convention. That Mr. PACKER has year after year profited, as a partizan and personally, by the hearty support of constant majorities in the Democratic stronghold where he lives, has weighed for nothing against him when there were fresh honors to be awarded. It is a question with not a few disinterested observers of men and things whether Judge PACKER, living in Western instead of Eastern Pennsylvania, would have been able to-day to present as spotless a record of partizan fidelity—never flinching from any trials, however hopeless, and never yielding to the abundant temptations which have here beset a Democrat personally popular among the masses of a preponderating opposition—as that which illustrates the career of Mr. CASS. With every inducement to turn his coat, he has held fast to his opinions, to the regret of thousands of his fellow-citizens here, while Judge PACKER, always caressed by Democratic majorities at home, has never yet known any other temptation than that of swimming with the profitable current. Had the location of these two gentlemen been entirely reversed, the Democracy would have gained a good man on the other side of the Alleghenies, and they might have lost one here.

THE DEMOCRACY IN '69.

Not content with nominating for Governor the weakest man of the four candidates, the Democracy have placed him upon the feeblest of platforms.

Their resolutions reiterate the old Copperhead protest of '63, against the "exercise of doubtful Constitutional power,"—the same protest with which they then recommended the surrender of every point claimed by the armed rebels, and under which they then avowed their unrelenting hostility to an Abolition war.

They deny the Legislative authority to ratify the XVth Article, demanding the repeal of this action and the submission of the main question to the people. Of this, it is enough to remark that, although we have the liveliest notions of the amazing assurance of the Democratic cheek, yet we do not believe that one respectable lawyer or politician of that party can be found within this Commonwealth, who will have the hardihood to stand up before an intelligent public and give his individual endorsement to the denial and the demand of this resolution. The idea of disputing the Legislative authority in the premises is the baldest absurdity. Had the Convention waived that question, as one too plain for any controversy, and made their fight upon the simple point of expediency, holding Republicans responsible for an alleged disregard of the popular sentiment of the Commonwealth, they would have credit for some common sense, looking from their partizan standpoint. Their true policy was clearly to regard the Legislative act as final, so far as concerned the State, but also to prosecute their opponents for the illegal disregard of public opinion. They might have reaped some profit from an ad captandum attack upon negro equality, while they can gain nothing but discomfiture by thus kicking against the pricks, upon the abstract point of Legislative authority. We need add but a word more on that head. Of the twenty odd Legislatures which have already acted on the new Article, but two or three have been chosen with this Article submitted as a popular issue: much the largest number of the Legislatures have acted, some in one way and some in another, upon the proposition which was submitted subsequent to their own election, without hesitating at all as to their full authority in the premises.

Our Democracy cling with an inveterate hate to their prejudices against impartial suffrage, and assail "the negro" accordingly. They shut their eyes to the present and future, and can see nothing but the past. They can concede no mistakes, and have learned nothing from years of defeat. Their friends in Ohio have been smarter. Contrast the foolishness of the Harrisburg resolution with the smooth way in which the Buckeye Democracy gave the whole question the go-by, as follows:

Resolved, That it is the right of each State to decide for itself who shall possess the elective franchise within it; that any attempt to regulate suffrage in Ohio, by means of the so-called Fifteenth Constitutional Amendment, is subversive of the principles of the Federal Constitution.

Considering that their hatred of negro suffrage was a cardinal point with the Ohio Democrats, and that it is only two years since a proposition for that sort of equality was voted down in that State by fifty thousand majority, it is plain that the resolution of '69, quoted above, is tantamount to a complete surrender to the progressive spirit of the times. The party see their account in a radical change of base on this question, and the resolution takes quite as long a step toward the flank as their leaders were willing to hazard for the first. Our own Democracy would have been wise to imitate the same tactics.

Reform in the management of public affairs is "imperatively demanded" by a Convention which changed its nominee to please that Philadelphia "gang," of which honest Democrats confess, with the deepest mortification, that it is composed of the vilest materials ever contributed to a party by personal and political dishonesty. Talk of financial reform by a party whose leaders have just sold three hundred thousand Democrats like so many sheep in the shambles!

They would "ameliorate the condition of the laboring man." Yes, they would ameliorate it by subjecting American industry to the competition of European pauperism. The free-trade Democracy of Pennsylvania dared not speak one word of encouragement for the protection of home labor against a ruinous foreign invasion!

They charge Republicanism with the overthrow of civil governments at the South. That is the old, old story, of an unconstitutional war, with all its unconstitutional consequences. If our Democracy are not content with the thrashings we have so often given them on this issue, they shall have another one in the coming October, and it is likely to be decisive.

They "gratefully remember" the soldiers and sailors. The soldiers and sailors faithfully remember them.

We can endorse their eighth resolution, for equal rights and protection to all citizens at home or abroad, and for the dignified assertion of American nationality.

The denunciation of the internal revenue system will suit millionaires like their candidate, but was not specially called for in the interests of the masses of the Democratic party.

Taken altogether, the Harrisburg platform is scarcely worthy of an intelligent contempt. Something more logical, more patriotic and more sensibly practical, could have been furnished at twenty-four hours' notice from the "School for the Feeble-minded" at Media.

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

"It was I," says the Pittsburgh Democrat who wrote and printed the following circular, disseminating it throughout the State in advance of the Harrisburg Convention. We reprint the document, handiwork as it is of a vindictive assassin of political reputation, as a remarkable contribution to current political history. It is not to be denied that the writer has made the most of the weak point in the record of the gentleman whom he assails. For a stab so adroitly and vigorously given to his rival, Judge PACKER's check for $5,000 ought to have been a matter of course. Read:

Will you permit me to say a few words to the Democratic editors and delegates to the next State Convention, who are in favor of the nomination of Mr. Cass, of Allegheny?

In the first place, we need to win votes, not drive them from us, in order to carry the next election. We are nine thousand votes behind. Can we do this with Mr. Cass?

Already the Opposition style him the "soldier in peace and the citizen in war." The fact that he graduated at West Point with honors, and then refused to give his services when the country most needed them—that fact alone will cost us ten thousand votes, should he be our candidate.

Every Democrat knows what difficulty we have with our soldier vote at best; but nominate Cass, and we virtually ask every man who drew a sword in the war to swallow it, and every one who faced a smoky musket to get down into the very dust and acknowledge he was wrong.

Gentlemen, friends of Mr. Cass, it cannot be done.

If you want to wreck the party, you could not do it in a better way. Are we not tired of wrecks, or are we to have another this fall?

Against Mr. Cass, personally, I have not the slighest objection; on the contrary, I know him to be a high-minded, honorable gentleman, but against him as our nominee I protest.

Why must we have another defensive campaign like Clymer's and Seymour's—up hill work from the very hour of their nomination to the day of their defeat? To newspaper men, who fancy that kind of work, I wish many returns of the same season; but to the thoughtful men of our party who favor the nomination of Mr. Cass, it must be apparent that with his record, at this time, his election is simply impossible.

The record to which reference is here made was that of the Convention of the same party at Harrisburg, six years since, of which the candidate from Allegheny was a prominent member, and which, with official solemnity, declared that it despaired of the Republic, and advised a compromise with the rebels, or a full surrender to their demands. For his fidelity to his party then, Gen. CASS is ungratefully sacrificed now. Let him and his true friends console themselves, in the conviction that the heart of the Democracy in '69 is true to its impulses and judgments of '63, and that it was money and not expediency which did the business at Harrisburg on the 14th.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The Harrisburg Convention resolved:

First—That the Federal Government is limited in power to the grant contained in the Federal Constitution, and the exercise of doubtful constitutional power is dangerous to the stability of the Government and the safety of the people, and the Democratic party did never consent that the State of Pennsylvania shall surrender her great right of local self-government.

Second—That the attempted ratification of the proposed Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution by the Radical members of the last Legislature, and their refusal to submit the same to a vote of the people, was a deliberate breach of their official duty, and an outrage upon every citizen of the State, and the resolution making such ratification should be promptly repealed and the amendment submitted to the people at the polls for acceptance or rejection.

Third—That the Democratic party of Pennsylvania is opposed to conferring upon the negro the right to vote, and we do emphatically deny that there is any right or power in Congress or elsewhere to impose negro suffrage upon the people of the State in opposition to their will.

Fourth—That reform in the administration of the Federal and State governments, and in the management of their financial affairs, is imperatively demanded.

Fifth—That the movement now being made for the amelioration of the condition of the laboring man has our most cordial co-operation.

Sixth—That the legislation of the late Republican Congress outside of the Constitution, the disregard of the majority therein of the will of the people and sanctity of the ballot-box in the exclusion from their seats in Congress of Representatives clearly elected; the establishment of military governments in States in the Union, and the overthrow of all civil governments therein, are acts of dynasty and usurpation, that tend directly to the destruction of all republican government and the creation of the worst forms of despotism.

Seventh—That our soldiers and sailors who carried the flag of our country to victory, must be gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

Eighth—Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-born citizens at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality, which shall command the respect of foreign powers and furnish an example of encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights.

Ninth—That the present internal revenue and taxing system of the general government is grossly unjust, and means ought at once to be adopted to cause a modification thereof.

THE COST OF PIG IRON.

The Hoosiers say they can beat Pennsylvania in cheap iron, smelting Lake Superior ore with their block coals. Here are their figures of the comparative expense, which we copy for what they may be worth:

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA.

Ore—37½ tuns at cost of $4 per tun	$150 00
Limestone—12½ tuns at cost of $1 per tun	12 50
Fuel—55½ tuns at cost of $2 20 per tun	124 75
Labor—$2 per tun	62 50
Total—105½ tuns material—total cost	$349 75
Producing iron, one-third ore, 12½ tuns, worth at the furnace $36 per tun	450 00
Profit to furnace	$110 25

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Ore—87½ tuns at $3 per tun	$337 50
Limestone—20 tuns at $1 per tun	10 00
Fuel—50 tuns at $2 per tun	100 00
Labor—$2 50 per tun	62 50
Total—96½ tuns material, costing	$510 00
Producing iron, two-thirds of ore 25 tuns, worth here $50 per tun	1 250 00
Profit to furnace	$740 00

Washington Items.

It is rumored here that Judge Chase's sudden return from the Virginia springs was occasioned by an agreement between him and some of his Southern friends to attend to the Yerger case, and that, consequently, he was not at all surprised when the application was presented to him. The point to be determined is, whether that part of the reconstruction acts which provides for the trial of persons accused of crimes by military commission is constitutional.

Several of the Cabinet officers are not pleased with the result in Virginia, and look upon the triumph of the Walker party rather as a defeat for the Administration than a victory. These Cabinet officers have been in consultation on the subject with the few Republican Senators and Representatives who are now here, and they also are of the opinion that the result in Virginia is a doubtful victory. They say Mr. Walker may mean well enough, but they fear the large majority of doubtful men in the Legislature may swamp him, and carry the State back to the condition in which Georgia and Louisiana now are. Prominent Republican Congressmen in those States, which hold elections this fall, write here expressing the same opinion. The Stokes party of Tennessee, especially, fear that if the Administration fully indorses the action of Virginia it will do them great injury in the approaching election in their State.

The New French Cable.

The Cable will be a thousand miles longer than the English Cable, or about eight thousand miles altogether. Its money-eyed projectors are Messrs. Erlanger and Reuter, the notorious enemies of the North during the late war, who are backed by a large array of stockholders. The longest section of the Cable is that from Brest to St. Pierre, 2,326 miles; the shorter one, from St. Pierre to the coast of Massachusetts, will be 722 miles long. The sections of the Cable between Brest, St. Pierre and Boston are six in number, and it needs six splicings between these points.

Rouse's Hummock, at the town of Duxbury, in Massachusetts, and near the Garnet Light of Plymouth Harbor, will be the American end of the cable. The Massachusetts Legislature have chartered a company to carry a line out beyond the jurisdiction of the United States, and splice it with the French cable, in order to avoid any difficulty growing out of the Constitution of the United States law with reference to this subject. Duxbury, where the Cable will have an office, was once a ship-building port of promise, but, like Plymouth and Salem, has passed into decay commercially. The late United States Consul General at Tripoli, Mr. J. M. Gaines, will have charge of the office, assisted by twelve sperators. According to the terms of the original Imperial grant, the price of a dispatch is not to exceed $20 for 20 words. The insulation of the cable is believed to be perfect, and its central wire is larger than that of the English line.

A MAN who lately sued a lady for breach of promise was offered two hundred dollars to settle. "What!" he cried, "two hundred dollars for ruined hopes, a shattered mind, a blasted life, and a bleeding heart! Two hundred dollars for all this! Never, never! Make it three and it's a bargin,"

"DON'T you think my eyes look quite killing this morning?" said a dandy to a smart girl, and he twisted his leaden visionaries in a most cruel and fascinating manner. "They remind me," said the damsel, "of a codfish dying of a toothache."

SOUTH PITTSBURGH.

The South Side City—Meeting of the Committee on Consolidation—Reports of Committees—A Name Adopted.

A meeting of the Committees from the several South Side boroughs, appointed at a public meeting to make arrangements and form a basis upon which said boroughs might consolidate and form a city, was held last evening at the office of Justice Salisbury, Birmingham, for the purpose of hearing the reports of sub-Commitees.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock, Justice Salisbury in the chair.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

THE BOUNDARY.

Mr. Krehan, Chairman of the Committee en Boundary, submitted a report, accompanying which was a draft or plot of the proposed boundary lines. Starting at the south end of the Monongahela suspension bridge, the line runs to the top of the hill, thence along the top of hill, or the South Pittsburgh line; thence in a direct line to Joseph Schell's tavern, on the Brownsville road; thence along the Brownsville road to Barkhammer street; thence along said street, and diverging therefrom keeping along the top of the hill until it strikes the south-eastern line of Orsmby borough extened; thence in a direct line along said line to the Monongahela river.

The report was adopted.

INDEBTEDNESS.

Mr. Ammon, chairman of the Committee on Indebtedness, submitted the following report:

GENTLEMEN: We, your Committee appointed to report a plan for the adjustment of the corporate liabilities of the several districts proposed to embrace the "new city," suggest that said matter be adjusted

1st, By the appointment of proper Commissioners, who shall ascertain the exact indebtedness and resources of each district up to the time consolidation shall go into effect.

2d, That the city assume the payment of said debt by issuing eight per cent. coupon bonds, having ten years to run from the first day of May, A. D. 1870.

3rd That a special tax be levied in said districts, which may be indebted at the time of consolidation, and that said tax alone, and no other funds be applied to the payment of interest and principal of the bonds issued by the city to the full amount of the debt at the date of consolidation of any of said districts.

4th That as soon as any of the said districts have paid the full amount of said debt, together with the interest thereon, the said taxation shall cease within the limits of said district.

After some discussion the report was adopted.

THE NAME.

Mr. Duncon, Chairman of the Committee, on Name and Charter, stated that the Committee had no written report to make, but they had agreed to report the name of 'South Pittsburgh."

After some discussion, the report was adopted.

THE CHARTER.

Mr. Aughenbaugh, who had been employed by the Committee to prepare a charter, stated that not knowing precisely what was wanted by the Committee, he had not completed the charter, but he had, however, as much written as they would like to hear read during one evening.

Mr. A. then proceeded to read the charter, and after having read a considerable portion of it, Mr. Duncan moved that a further reading of the paper be postponed until the next meeting.

Mr. Estep moved to amend by requiring the Committee on Charter to have fifty copies printed for the use of the Committee.

The motion as amended was adopted.

Mr. Estep moved that the Committee on Charter be instructed to fix the boundaries of the wards and the number to represent the wards in Select and Common Council of the new city. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Krehan, the several sub Committees were authorized to fill vacancies occurring in their number.

On motion, adjourned.

G. A. R.

Interesting Presentation—Gen. A. L. Pearson, District Attorney, Honored.

At Altoona, on Tuesday last was held a re-union meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic of the District of Pennsylvania, which was largely attended. The business that came up before the body was carefully transacted, after which Col. Bombashell, of Berks county was elected for the ensuing year, Grand Commander of the Department. Previous to adjournment a Committee on Resolutions was appointed to express in fitting terms the large measure of approbation in which the past Grand Commander was held by the National organization. The Committee reported the following preamble and resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Grand Commander Comrade, Gen. A. L. Pearson, has, by his untiring energy and fidelity to the cause of the Grand Army of the Republic, increased and strengthened our organization in the Pennsylvania Department, during the term of his command, therefore be it

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention are due and hereby tendered to Comrade Pearson, and that our prayers and best wishes be with him in the ranks as our support and obedience were when he held the command.

Resolved, That Comrades Calhoun, Bodine, Gobin and McLean be appointed to draught, engross and present the foregoing resolutions to Comrade Pearson.

The Committee faithfully discharged their duty and had the resolutions engrossed in a highly artistic manner, employing as scribe the highly accomplished and and graceful Professor G. W. Martindell, of Philadelphia, who accomplished his work in such a manner as to win the comiums of all who looked upon it. The pen drawing was simply exquisite, and placed the executor far in advance of most the ordinary pensmen who clamor for public admiration.

Last evening a large party of ladies and gentlemen assembled in the saloon parlors of Gen. Pearson, and the formal presentation of the resolutions was made with a neat and appropriate speech by Capt. W. B. Cook. The parchment of honor was framed magnificently, and at a cost of several hundred dollars. It was, as a whole, a worthy tribute to a gallant, accomplished and worthy soldier and gentleman. Gen. Pearson responded handsomely, and speeches appropriate to the occasion were made by a number of gentlemen present, who seemed to deeply appreciate the honor thus conferred on one of our most esteemed and popular fellow-citizens. Subsequently, under the auspices of Mrs. Gen. Pearson, the accomplished and whole-souled wife of the recipient, a dance was inaugurated, and at a late hour in the morning the many guests retired abundantly pleased with the presentation occasion, and more than ever impressed with princely notions concerning the grand order of the Army of the Republic.

In Service Again.

The Gen. Grant Steamer of Allegheny, at a recent fire broke a portion of her machinery and was thus thrown out of service for several days. Yesterday the repairs were completed, and she was again placed in working order, ready for action.

For the last week or two the members of the company have been busily engaged in the renovation of their quarters, and have succeeded in making it now one of the most handsomely furnished and comfortable houses in either city. In addition to repairing, frescoing, and the general brightening up, they have adorned the parlor with new tete a tetes, and other furniture accordingly, together with adding several new bunks, fitted up in the most perfect manner in the sleeping apartment. The "Gen. Grant" is one of the most active and efficient companies in the service, and we are glad to note these evidences of the interest taken in the organization by its members.

—A dispatch from Denver says: The Kansas Pacific Congressional excursion party arrived last evening, all enjoying the trip. They spent several days near Pike's Peak. An interesting proceeding took place on Sunday in the Garden of the Gods, near Colorado City. Senator Rice presided. Senator Scott, of Pennsylvania, read the one hundred and fourth and second Psalms, and after a collation provided by the Kansas and Pacific Railroad, letters were read from Senator Howard and others. Resolutions were adopted expressive of the satisfaction of the party. On Monday evening a large number of citizens were addressed at Colorado city, by Messrs. Morrell and Root. The party expect to visit other points of interest. Messrs. Rice and Root go to California, the others will return via Omaha.

—A short time since the vestrymen of Trinity Church, in Chicago, invited the Right Rev. Dr. Cummins, associate Bishop of Kentucky, their old rector, to preach during the temporary absence of their present rector, Rev. Mr. Sullivan. He accepted, and Sunday before last preached an anti-Ritualistic sermon, in which he is said to have charged the present troubles in the Episcopal Church to the introduction of Cathedral worship. This remark was considered a reflection upon the Bishop of the Diocese, and on Monday he called upon Mr. Wright, the junior Warden of Trinity, and advised him not to allow Dr. Cummins to occupy the pulpit. The associate Bishop was telegraphed not to come.

THE following is a young minister's idea of the expansive nature of the human mind: "Yes, my friends, the mind of man is so expansive that it can soar from star to star, and from sachelite to sachelite, and from seraphene to seraphene, and from cherrybeam to cherrybeam, and from thence to the centre of the bone of heaven."

TRUSSES AND HERNIA.

The sad and deplorable condition of many who are afflicted with hernia or rupture of the bowels, calls loudly for some efficient and unmistakable remedy that will not only in every case give efficient relief, but in many cases effect a radical and thorough cure. These cases of hernia have become so frequent that it is computed that one-sixth of the male population are said to be troubled, in some way or another, with this terrible ailment; and in very many cases do not know where to apply for an appropriate remedy, oftentimes not knowing whether an appliance is really needed or not; and if it should be needed, they often do not know where or to whom they should make application. The world is full of trusses for the retention and cure of this lamentable evil, oftentimes an inconsestible proof of their total and inadequate fitness to relieve the sufferer. This need not be; DR. KEYSER, at his new medicine store, No. 167 Liberty street, is abundantly supplied with every appliance needful to the retention and relief of this terrible affliction, so that every one can be properly fitted, at a moderate cost, with the full assurance that the appliance is the best that the mechanical department of surgery can afford. The Doctor has pursued the investigation of hernia with more than ordinary care for over thirty years, so that the afflicted can place implicit reliance in his skill and integrity, with the full assurance that they will not only get the best truss suitable to the case, but likewise a thorough and efficient knowledge of its proper application.

There are many persons who not only sacrifice their health, but even their lives, for want of a proper truss, or a truss properly applied. Strangulated and irreduceable rupture is a far more common ailment now than in former years; and may we not justly arrive at the conclusion that its frequency is often occasioned by the neglect and carelessness of the sufferers themselves. No one would be regarded as sane or excusable who would go for a whole winter without the proper clothing to shield them from the inclement weather, but, at the same time, it is thought a light affair to suffer with a protrusion such as rupture that not only subjects the person to inconvenience, but even places life itself in jeopardy. Those of our readers who may be so unfortunate as to need appliances of this kind cannot act more wisely than to cut this advertisement and preserve it, so as to enable them to remember the place where such important preservers of life and health are to be procured.

DR. KEYSER'S GREAT MEDICINE STORE, No. 167 Liberty street, two doors from Sixth. CONSULTATION ROOMS, 120 Penn street, from 1 until 4 P. M.

SUMMER PERILS—HOW TO ESCAPE.

It will not do to trifle with the health in hot weather. Vigor oozes through the skin at every pore, and it is by physical vigor only that unhealthy influences can be baffled and repelled. The vital elements are evaporated in perspiration. Intense heat converts a man into a self-acting pump, and the moisture that is pumped out of him is derived from the well-springs of life within him. There is great need therefore, that these sources of physical strength should be in a condition to bear, without danger or inconvenience, the extraordinary drain. If they are not in such a condition, the individual becomes languid and low-spirited.

The main thing is to keep the digestive apparatus in good working trim; for if the stomach, the purveyor of the system, does its duty thoroughly, the liver, the bowels, the brain, and the nervous system, being duly matured, will be likely to do theirs. In view of these facts, it is manifest that a powerful and wholesome vegetable tonic like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is especially required at this enfeebling season. It is the most admirable of all correctives and invigorants, and for this reason: it does not over stimulate the system. The proportions of appetizer, tonic and stimulating components are so judiciously graduated, that the process of invigoration and purification go on simultaneously, and no undue excitement is created in the circulation or the brain. All unselected stimulants, however pure, excite the pulse and the nervous system. Their exhilarating effect is temporary, and when it passes off the physical and mental depression they were employed to remove returns in an aggravated form. But this is not the case when HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are taken as a stomachic and nervine. The medical herbs, roots and gums with which they are impregnated, neutralize the exciting principle of the rye spirit which forms their basis, and which is in itself the most wholesome of all the varieties of alcohol.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for the traveling community.
J. B. HARRIS
Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.
For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fire in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.
It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto, I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application rights to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

VALUABLE COAL LANDS IN VIRGINIA FOR SALE OR LEASE.—The undersigned, in pursuance of a decree of the Circuit Court of the county of Henrico, in the State of Virginia, made on the 3d day of May, 1869, will receive PROPOSALS IN WRITING, either for the PURCHASE OR LEASE, from and after the 31st DECEMBER, 1869, for the whole or any part, of the COAL LANDS situate in Chesterfield county, Va., belonging to the Chesterfield Coal and Iron Mining Company.
The lands cost said Company more than $300,000. The mines which they contain have been and are now being profitably worked by the present lessees, and the property is considered of great value for its coal and iron ore.
The different tracts are known as follows:
"WOOLDRIDGE'S and FALLING CREEK," containing about TWO HUNDRED AND FOUR ACRES;
"BLACK HEATH," NINETY-NINE ACRES;
"BARKER and BRANCH'S," NINETY-NINE ACRES;
"HARVIE and HARRIS'," TWO HUNERED AND TWENTY FOUR ACRES;
"CULLIN'S," SEVENTY-SIX ACRES;
"MARTIN'S," (one tract,) THIRTY ACRES;
"MARTIN'S," (another tract,) THREE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SIX ACRES;
"SALLE PITS," TWO HUNDRED ACRES, and a COAL-YARD and LAND attached thereto, on James river, opposite Richmond, containing upwards of FOUR ACRES.
Inquiries and proposals may be addressed to the undersigned, Postoffice Box 342, Richmond, Va., until the 20th day of October, A. D. 1869.
It is recommended that the proposals be made as specific as possible, since the decree requires them to be reported to the Court for its approval or disapproval at the next term, commencing on the 25th day of October, 1869.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 15, 1869.

When the cable dispatches brought information this morning from London that the Bank of England had reduced its rates of interest, the firmer feeling in gold subsided, and gold showed symptoms of weakness, opening at 136⅞ to 137, and closing this evening at 136¼. This policy of the Bank of England will draw large amounts of money to New York, and exports of specie are thereby checked, and a new impetus to bond speculation is thereby given. Although it is not likely that gold will decline very much during the present and next month, the bull element is less confident for the present. With an easier market, however, and during the month of August higher rates are likely to prevail. The powerful cliques in stocks, together with the foreign bankers, have a common interest in forcing up gold before the shipments of this years crops and cotton begin. The foreign bankers, in particular, hold some gold at 144, which they will make a desperate effort to sell again with a profit. Bonds are firm, but scarcely as high as yesterday. More sellers make their appearance, and with lower gold a reaction is likely to take place.

Stocks are artificially bid up, but prices are barely sustained whenever any sellers appear.

Money easy.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 15, 1869.

Business generally continues dull, with but little prospect of any immediate improvement. Flour is firm, with only a moderate demand however, and while the stock is pretty well reduced, it is nevertheless fully up to the demand. Wheat is scarce and in steady milling demand, and Corn and Rye are also scarce and in fair demand. Provisions firmer, and tending upward. There is an increased demand for sugars, the season for putting up small fruits being arrived, and, compared with last week, prices are a shade higher.

APPLES—Sales of new crop at $3@4 per bbl.

BUTTER—Is in light supply, but the demand is light and prices are unchanged, ranging from 20 to 25c.

BEANS—Dull at $1,75@2.

BROOMS—Quoted as follows: No. 5 $6,50; No. 4 $6; No. 3 $5, No. 2, plain, $4,50, and market firm.

CHEESE—Sales Western Reserve, at 15; Hamburg, at 16; Factory, at 17; and Goshen, at 18.

CARBON OIL—Quiet; may be quoted in a jobbing way at 29@30, for standard brands.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull. Peaches nominal at 9@10 for quarters; 12@14 for mixed, and 16 for prime halves. Apples 10@13 cts.

EGGS—Sales at 20@21c.

FEATHERS — Supply in hands of commission men almost exhausted. Live geese may be quoted at 85@90, to the trade, and $1 in a retail way.

FISH—Quoted as follows: No. 1 Mackeral, $14 per half bbl; No. 2, $10,50; No. 3 large (full) $7,50; do short, $6,75; Baltimore Herring $9 per bbl do Shad, $8,50. Lake Herring, $3,25 per half bbl, and White Fish, $8.

FLOUR—Is firm, but without quotable change in prices, and the demand continues light. We continue to quote Spring Wheat at $6,50@7, and Winter Wheat at $7@7,25; Rye Flour $6,25@6,50.

GRAIN—There is a continued good milling demand for Wheat, and but little offering; prime to choice Winter, $1,35@1,40. Oats held pretty firmly but the demand is light, and prices are unchanged—sale 1 car at 66, and small sales in store at 68@70. Corn little or none in market and firm; sales mixed at 78@80, and prime Yellow at 83@85. Rye—very little offering; may be quoted firm at $1.25.

GROCERIES—There is an increased demand for Sugars, and compared with last week, prices are higher. In other articles, there are no changes worthy of special notice. Following are the ruling quotations:

SUGARS—S H, 11½; A A, 15; Havana 14; Cuba, 12½; Porto Rico, 14@14¼ Demarara, 15; New Orleans, but little prime in market and sells readily at 14@14½; lower grades, 13; Refined, Ex. C, 15½; B, 15¾; A, 16; Hard, 17.

Half a Mile Below Ground—Thrilling Adventures in Colorado.

James White, Henry Strole and Captain Baker, of the late Confederate army, left Colorado City on May 27th, 1867, on foot, with two pack mules to carry provisions, tools and blankets, for the purpose of prospecting in the San Juan valley for gold. After several weeks travel they struck the San Juan river; but, not finding sufficient promise in the sands, went westward, and at length reached Grand river, the banks of which were masses of perpendicular rock, 2,000 feet high. Both men and animals suffered for water, and it was a day before they could reach the stream which dashed and foamed in the canon. The next morning, (August 28th), they ascended, and were suddenly assailed by gun shots from a band of Indians. Baker fell at the first fire, saying, "save yourselves." But his comrades fought until he was dead, and then they retreated down into the canon.

The consultation which ensued resulted in the decision to go down the river, since to go back was almost sure death from Indians. So they abandoned the mules and traveled down the stream five miles. On each side arose the cold sandstone walls two thousand feet high, and they waited for dark, when only for a single hour in the day did the sun shine into the chasm. They found driftwood, and made a raft of sticks and cottonwood, lashing them together with mule ropes, and then fastening on their provisions, floated on in the almost Tartarean darkness of that wonderful gulch. Through the long night they clung to the raft, as it dashed against rocks or whirled in eddies. At last daylight came, and with it a smoother current. They then made a landing, ate some of their water soaked provisions, and strengthened the raft with cedar sticks. They then embarked, and toward afternoon came to the junction where Green and Grand rivers unite to form the Colorado.

At the junction the river is about 750 feet in with, and the walls on either side were nearly a mile high. Above was only to be seen a narrow strip of sky, while the cedars that stood upon the edge of the canon seemed no larger than weeds, and detached pinnacles rose yet higher as monuments to memorize the mutiny of mighty waters. Down they floated in the great canon; in the daylight, made brief by the shutting out of the sun, they endeavored to avoid the rocks which opposed them, and at night they drew to the foot of the huge wall and stayed till morning. They could not go back, and so they floated on hoping to reach Calville. Four days had passed, when, on the afternoon of the 28th of August, an ominous roar ahead was heard, the current became more rapid, a short bend was turned, and a foaming waterfall was seen. Nothing could prevent the raft going over it. Then Strole stood up with his pole in his hand, while White clung to the logs. The raft leaped down into the waters, and White heard the last shriek of his companion, who had been cast off into the seething torrent; with turned head he beheld through the mist and spray his comrade's form toss for a moment in the boiling water, and then sink.

Remembering this, and not knowing what to expect in that terrible fissure of the earth, the walls of which were now as much as 7,000 feet in hight, and seemed to meet almost, and keeping out all of the upper earth, excepting the narrowest ribbon of blue sky, White tied himself to the raft, and strengthened the lashings. All the provisions and arms had been lost in going over the waterfall, and after that came a succession of rapids, blocked up by the masses of rocks over which the raft was driven and tumbled and sometimes completely submerged. One of these the logs composing the raft became separated at the uper end, and spread out fanwise; but White after being thrown into the water, regained his place, and refastened them. Shortly afterwards he reached the mouth of the Colorado Chiquito, which joins the Colorado proper at right angles, and creates a small eddy or whirlpool. In this whirling of waters, White, clinging desperately to the raft, was tossed to and fro for hours, and only when almost unconscious found that he was released from the grasp of the liquid arms, and was once more floating down between the lofty perpendicular walls.

Four days had passed since he had tasted food. Nothing had he seen but the foaming waters, the blank bare walls and the thread of sky above. For more than a week he had been at the bottom of a trench a mile in depth. Exhausted and hungered, he even sought to suck his own blood, but the aspect of his shriveled, blistered arm frightened him. It was then that he came to a flat strip of shore with bushes growing on it. Here he stopped, devoured some green leaves and pods, and again resumed his journey. On the eleventh day he was taken on shore by some Yampais Indians, who would have killed him had not one of them interfered and protected him. This human savage gave the voyager meat and roasted mezquite beans to eat, and after a short rest White tottered to his raft and floated downward

Three days afterward he was aroused from stupor by voices. Strong arms were thrown about him, and bearded faces looked pityingly upon him. He was tended and cared for by the Mormons of this place, and, with his strong constitution, soon regained health, and has now no desire to leave the spot where good Samaritans ministered unto him. He is in good health and doing well, and does not wish to renew his experience.

THE Zanesville Courier says: A young man residing here, a printer by trade, last fall came home from Pittsburgh, suffering with consumption of the lungs. The peculiar type of the disease we are not able to state. He was scarcely able to walk about the house when he came home, grew rapidly worse as the disease progressed, until he was confined to his bed, with not the slightest hope of his recovery on the part of attending physicians or friends. The left lung seemed to be entirely useless, and the right very badly affected. Some six weeks ago, a tumor was observed just below the rib, on the left side, and this was lanced. From the incision made at the time, fully six quarts of matter was taken away, when the wound closed. Last Sabbath, the tumor having again become enlarged, was again opened, when nearly five quarts of matter ran from the opening. He seems now to be breathing throughout nearly the entire lung, and it is thought that he will probably recover.

Cure for Cancer.

Our attention has been recently called to a cure for cancers, which is of so much importance that we wish to make it known as widely as possible. Some eight months ago Mr. T. B. Mason--who keeps a music store on Wisconsin street, and is a brother of the well-known Lowell Mason—ascertained that he had a cancer on his face the size of a pea. It was cut out by Dr. Walcott and the wound partially healed. Subsequently it grew again, and while he was in Cincinnati on business it attained the size of a hickory nut. He has remained there since Christmas under treatment, and has come back perfectly cured. The process is this:

A piece of sticking plaster was put over the cancer, while a circular piece cut out of the cancer a little larger than the cancer, and a small circular rim of healthy skin next to it was exposed. Then a plaster made of chloride of zinc, bloood root and wheat flour was spread on a piece of muslin of the size of this circular opening and applied to the cancer for twenty-four hours. On removing it the cancer will be found to be burnt into, and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole, and the circular rim outside of it will appear white and parboiled, as if scalded by hot steam. The wound is now dressed, and the outside rim soon suppurates and the cancer comes out a hard lump, and the place heals up

The plaster kills the cancer, so that it sloughs out like dead flesh, and never grows again. This remedy was discovered by Dr. Fell, of London, and has been used by him for six or eight years, with unfailing success, and not a case has been known of the reappearance of the cancer where this remedy has been applied. It has the sanction of the most eminent physicians and surgeons of London, but has not till recently been used in this country, and many of the faculty, with their proverbial opposition to innovations, look upon it with disgust. We saw Mr. Mason at church yesterday, and have since conversed with him, and took particular notice of the cicatrized wound, and can only say that if the cure is permanent—and, from the evidence of six or eight years' experience in other cases, we have no doubt it is—the remedy ought to be universally known. The experiment excited much interest in Cincinnati, and we call the attention of the faculty in this State to the remedy. If it is what is claimed for it, this terrible disease will be shorn of most of its terrors. The application is painful, but the pain is of comparatively brief duration, which any one so afflicted would cheerfully endure.

V. R. to George Peabody.

It will be remembered that Mr. George Peabody left England very unexpectedly and without allowing his proposed departure to be known, save by a few intimate friends. But the fact of his embarkation, and of his extremely feeble health, found its way into the English journals, and came to the knowlege of her Majesty, who gave immediate expression to her feelings in the following autograph note, which we learn, has been received by Mr. Peabody within a few days past:

WINDSOR CASTLE, June 20, 1869.

The Queen is very sorry that Mr. Peabody's sudden departure has made it impossible for her to see him before he left England, and she is concerned to hear that he is gone in bad health.

She now writes him a line to express her hope that he may return to this country quite recovered, and that she may then have the opportunity, of which she is now deprived, of seeing him and offering him her personal thanks for all he has done for her people.

The note was transmitted by Mr. Arthur Helps, the Clerk of the Privy Council, who adds that the Queen also commanded him "to be sure and charge Mr. Peabody to report himself on his return to England." The letter is throughout in the handwriting of the Queen.

Tea Culture in the South.

It is not generally known that this very valuable plant can be successfully grown in various portions of the Union, and that wherever the experiment has been carefully tested, the result has far surpassed all expectations. About ten years ago Captain J. Campbell, of Tennessee, received a few plants from the Agricultural Department in Washington, which he planted near Knoxville. These plants have proved very hardy, bear annually an abundant crop, and these who have tasted of the tea agree that in flavor it is fully equal to the best Young Hyson. Our trade with China and Japan is immense, constituting a very heavy drain upon our national coin resources, and if, by a little ordinary study of the nature and peculiarities of the plant, the best methods of cultivating it, and the climates and soils best adapted to its growth, we can stop this drain, it will amply repay the effort; but when it is remembered that a successful cultivation of this plant in the border of Southern States, a new source of wealth and trade may be opened up which, in market value, will throw even the vast cotton staple into the shade, the importance of a prompt, fair, and well directed effort in this direction will appear self-evident.

VICKSBURG, Miss., still exhibits severe marks of the siege of 1863. The numerous caves in the sides of the hills where the inhabitants took refuge are still open, but many have fallen in, and in some cases the whole side of the hill has crumbled down into the street. Recently, one of these caves was opened, and found to contain the bones of a family supposed to have been suffocated by the closing of the entrance. The rifle pits and earth forts still remain on the hill-tops, but the cannon have all been removed. The spot where the conference between Grant and Pemberton took place in 1863 was surrounded by a grove of trees, and was sheltered by a large oak; now it is an open field under cultivation. The marble monument erected to designate the place of the conference has been removed in consequence of its disfigurement by relic hunters. A ten-inch columbiad gun, with a suitable inscription, has been substituted for the monument.

ON THE 2d day of November an election will be held in Florida, by proclamation of Governor Reed of that State, to take the sense of the people of West Florida on the question of annexing that portion of the State to Alabama.

IT is said that when a Russian husband neglects to beat his wife a month or two, she begins to feel alarmed at his indifference.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to turn out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 325 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the above medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

Home.—Nearly all the Democrats who were in Harrisburg at the Convention are home.

The old tower of St Pauls is rapidly coming down and the new one is quickly going up.

The woman who was burned week before last at a fire on 36th street, died and was buried on Sunday. No inquest was held.

The Weekly Mirror comes to us this week as bright and as handsome as a new greenback, and full of choice reading matter.

A Farce.—A uniformed police force in Pittsburgh. From the costumes worn a stranger would be slow to believe that any attempt at uniform was intended.

Leg Broken.—A little boy, David Fawcett, aged about four years, fell from an apple tree near Soho, Wednesday afternoon, and had his right leg broken below the knee. He was taken to his home, No. 47 Van Braam street, where Dr. J. L. Read set the broken limb, Deserved Promotion.—Mr. F. N. Finney, late Assistant Superintendent of the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad, has been appointed Superintendent and Engineer for the company. He is a gentleman of well known ability, who will not leave an effort unused to promote the interests entrusted to his care.

A Rebel.—Joseph Rebel, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, rebelled, a few days since, from allegiance to his home ties, and abandoned his family. His wife consulted Alderman Bolster yesterday in relation to the affair, and through the mediation of the official, Joseph was prevailed upon to return,

Sun Stroke.—Mr. Maherron, a laborer employed at the New Library Hall, Penn street, had an attack of sun stroke yesterday about ten o'clock, and was removed to his residence at No. 28 Point alley, where he died about five o'clock. Coroner Clawson was notified and will hold an inquest this morning.

Bad Language.—Budolph Weber was arrested by Alderman Bolster, yesterday, in Allegheny, for using vile and insulting language toward Mrs. Martha Mangold, and otherwise acting in a disorderly manner. He plead guilty and was released upon payment of the costs, the prosecutor being content with this mode of settlement.

Disorderly.—Catharine Bach and Maria Lesse, residents of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, had a dispute yesterday in regard to their children, when Maria, according to Catharine's statements, used vile and insulting language toward her. She immediately repaired to the office of Alderman Bolster, who arrested Maria for disorderly conduct. The case was compromised, the costs being divided between the parties.

Smith in Trouble.—Joseph Smith was taken before Alderman McMaster yesterday, to answer a charge of larceny as bailee, preferred against him by John Oris. Oris alleges that Smith obtained from him sixty dollars' worth of trimmings, which he refuses to give back. Smith acknowledges to the possession of the trimmings, but alleges Oris owes him a bill and that the articles are but an offset to this. He was held for a further hearing.

A Gate Wrecked.—Yesterday morning, as a train loaded with stone was passing through the gateway at the Federal street crossing of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, one of the stones which had been placed with one end leaning over the side of the car, struck the gate post and broke it square off even with the pavement, scattering the gate in innumerable small pieces on either side. The train was not at all disturbed in its course by the accident.

Accepted.—James Hamill, yesterday morning, called upon Mr. J. W. Pittock, publisher of the Leader, and signified his intention to accept Coulter's challenge. As an evidence that he means business, he left a deposit of $100, which Mr. Coulter did at the time of making the challenge. The preliminaries for the race have not yet been arranged, but it is thought that they will be in a few days, and that the same will take place next month.

Early Manifestations.—A youth of some ten summers was arrested in Allegheny, yesterday, for stealing a watch, valued at $60, from a relative, and attempting to sell it to a companion. The timepiece was recovered and the youthful scapegrace compelled to mark time smartly for about fifteen minutes by his father, who seemed to believe in this instance, with another very intelligent gentleman of a former age, that sparing "the rod" was spoiling "the child."

Sent Up for Ten Days.—Wednesday evening about ten o'clock, Mary Ann Slatterlie, while in a fit of intoxication, succeeded in raising a commotion in the vicinity of her residence, in the Second ward, Allegheny, by attempting to whip her little child. The neighbors called in the police, and by the combined efforts of five of the blue coats she was safely conveyed to the lock-up. Yesterday morning Mayor Drum sent her to jail for ten days for disorderly conduct.

Dangerously Injured by a Fall.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock Mr. Thomas Ruberry, a stone mason employed by Messrs Christy and Co., met with a serious accident, which may result in his death. He was working on a high stone wall, which is being erected by the Panhandle Railroad Company, in the rear of Painter's mill, when, some of the workingmen directed him to step aside until they could place a log, which was being used on the track, in position. In compliance with the request, he moved away, but in doing so, missed his footing, and was precipitated backwards into the yard of the mill, falling a distance of thirty-five feet. He alighted on his back, injuring his spine, breaking his left leg in two places, and spraining an ankle, beside suffering sever bruises on other parts of his body. When the extent of his injuries was ascertained he was immediately removed to his home on Wylie street, this city, and Dr. Donnely called in. After receiving the necessary medical attention he was taken to Mercy Hospital, where he at present lies in a very precarious condition. He is about thirty-five years of age and has a family depending upon him for support.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Sterrett.

THURSDAY, July 14.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. John McKirdy, previously reported, was resumed and is still on trial.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

Hearing Before Alderman Neeper in the Case of the Commonwealth vs. Hermer —The Testimony.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. John Hermer, a driver on the Central, or Minersville Passenger Railway, charged before Alderman Neeper with following worldly employment on the 11th day of July, which was the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, came up for a hearing yesterday at two o'clock.

Messrs. Moore and Pollock appeared for the prosecution, and the defense was conducted by Messrs Jones and Reed.

When the case was called, Mr. Jones inquired if the prosecutor was present.

Mr. Pollock replied that he was, but that he did not propose to place him on the witness stand.

Mr. Jones contended that the defendant had a right to meet his accuser face to face, that he should be placed under oath, and the defendant's counsel allowed to cross-examine him on the information. If the Commonwealth declined to call him, the defense would do so.

The following testimony was then adduced:

Joseph Lofink sworn—I am twenty-three years of age; reside in the Eighth ward, Pittsburgh; the Wylie Street Passenger Railway passes my residence; I think it is called the Pittsburgh and Minersville Railway; I saw cars pass my house on that road last Sunday, the 11th of July, 1869; I know John Hermer; I saw him drive a car past my house on Sunday; he was on the front platform of the car; I suppose he had lines in his hands or he could not drive; I could not tell the number of the car; the horses he was driving were pulling a car belonging to that Company; the car was being used for carrying passengers; I saw some persons in it; I have traveled on the road and have paid fare; do not know whether they charged passengers last Sunday or not; was not on the car.

Question—Does that Company charge passengers usually.

Mr. Jones objected to proving anything the company did on any other day than that upon which the offence was alleged to have been committed.

Mr. Pollock held that it was admissable to prove what the ordinary business of the company was, in order to show that in running on Sunday they had been following a worldly employment.

Mr. Jones asked that the question be submitted in writing.

The question was then reduced to writing as follows:

"State what the business of this railroad company is?"

Objected to by Mr. Jones as being irrelevant.

The question was admitted and was answered as follows:

To carry passengers up and down the hill.

The cars run from the corner of Market street and Fourth avenue to Minersville. They carry passengers for pay. On the 11th of July, (last Sunday.) when I saw Hermer driving the horses there were passengers in the car. I only saw him drive past once. I did not make it my business to watch him or them. I was sitting in the door when he passed. He has been in the employ of this company in the week time. I have seen him drive past in the week time. I could not state whether he was employed on Sunday or not. I have seen him drive past in the week time. He was doing the same kind of work last Sunday that I have seen him do during the week days. I saw him drive the horses on other days and Sundays too. I do not know of my own knowledge whether he gets pay or not. I know they get pay, but do not know how much. I know they get paid for their labor.

Cross-examined—I live on Fulton street. Keep tavern.

Mr. Jones—Do you know Henry Beckert, the man who makes the information?

Objected to by Mr. Pollock, because it is not a cross-examination, and is not relevant. Objection overruled.

Answer—I know Henry Beckert; have known him for some time.

Mr. Jones—When and where did you last meet him before this information was made?

Objected to by Mr. Pollock, for the reasons given above. Objection sustained.

Witness—I have no interest in this proceeding.

Question—Do you belong to any association combined for the purpose of making information against persons for a violation of what is called the Sunday law?

Objected to by Mr. Pollock because it is incompetent, irrelevant, not a cross-examination, and exceedingly impertinent. Objection sustained.

Question—Have you made any contribution for the purpose of paying the expenses of these or other suits?

Answer—I have not; I know nothing about it.

Question—Did you call to see Mr. Pollock, their attorney in this case, in reference to the case prior to this investigation?

Answer—I was in Mr. Pollock's office, and he told me my name was left there as a witness in this case. I go there every time I have business. I never went to see Mr. Pollock about this case. I went to attend to my own business and he put me in mind of it. He is my attorney.

Question—How often did you call to see Mr. Pollock in reference to this case?

Objected to by Mr. Pollock.

Mr. Jones held that the defendant had rights in the Court as well as the prosecutor. It was alleged that there was a combination formed for the purpose of making these informations, and if this witness was in that combination the defendant had a right to know it. He never knew an examiner in any case rule out a question. It was the duty of the Alderman to take down the question and answer,

Mr. Pollock held that the magistrate had no right to take down the answer of a witness and place it upon the record, that would convict him of a conspiracy, and perhaps send him to the Penitentiary.

Mr. Reed stated that he was willing to go as far as any man toward a rigid enforcement of the law against the desecration of the Sabbath, but he objected to the illegal measures, the formation of a society or conspiracy for the purpose. The defendants would show that this car had been run for the purpose of carrying passengers to church. Objection sustained.

Mr. Pollock offered in evidence the act of the 26th of April, 1855, being supplementary to the act of 22d April, 1794, forbidding worldly employment on the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday.

The prosecution here closed their testimony.

The defendant's counsel asked that the prosecutor be examined.

Mr. Moore, one of the counsel for the prosecution, stated that he had sent the prosecutor away because they did not want him.

Mr. Jones asked that the case be continued. He held that if there were no other reason, the absence of the prosecutor, whom the defense desired to examine, was a sufficient ground for a continuance.

The Alderman refused to grant the continuance, and the defense proceeded to call witnesses as follows:

W. F. Slidell—I am Assistant Superintendent of the Central Passenger Railway; I know John Hermer; he is a driver on the Central Passenger Railway; I was present on Sunday when he started out with his train; it consisted of one car and a pair of horses; he started at ten o'clock A. M. from the station at the head of Centre avenue, to take the church people down to church; he was engaged at other times; he made eight trips that day from ten o'clock A. M. until half past nine P. M. I had instructions from the President and Superintendent to run cars to accommodate the churches and Sabbath schools. The cars through the week run on fifteen minutes time, beginning at fifteen minutes past six A. M., and the last car leaves the city at eleven o'clock P. M. There are a good many residents along the line of the road who depend on the cars for coming to church, and for their accommodation we run the cars. It is a pecuniary loss to the company to run the cars on Sunday.

Cross-examined—The instructions from the President and Superintendent in regard to running the cars on Sundays were given to me on the last two Sundays. My orders to the driver were for that car to leave the station at 12 o'clock M., so as to be in the city at half past twelve to take the people home from church. I was at the lower station when the car came in; did not see any passengers in it. I did not see any money taken in by John Hermer or any other person on the road that day. The drivers generally collect the fare.

C. Hansom Love, sworn.—The most of the churches open about half past ten o'clock A. M., and close at from twelve to half past twelve. The Sunday Schools generally commence about one o'clock, and some of them much later. The afternoon services at the churches commence at from two and a half to three P. M., and some of them later, and in the evening from half past six to half past seven P. M., and close at from half past seven to half past eight.

The witness was requested to give a list of the churches located along and adjacent to the line of the road, of which there were about thirty.

CROSS EXAMINED.—I am a stock holder in the Central Passenger Railway Company. I know of no arrangement of the Company to pay the fines imposed upon the drivers. I know of no arrangement of the Company to pay council for defending this case.

The testimony here closed, and the Alderman stated that he would reserve his decison until eleven o'clock Friday morning.

Weather.

EDITORS GAZETT: The following were the indications from June 9th to July 9th: A dark, cloudy month; twenty cloudy and variable, fourteen of rain and nine clear, sunshine days, with several thunder storms, and no fears of a drought. It is presumed the summer will be healthy and the most abundant in production of any since 1855 and 1857.

The record foots up twenty-one cloudy and variable, of which sixteen were of rain and eight sunshine days: five thunder storms; average daily of the thermometer, 70; of the river, 6½ feet. The same days in 1868 show 73¼ daily average of the thermometer, or 100 degrees hotter in 1868. The season is still healthy, and the atmosphere free from deleterious matter. The present lunar month will bear the same description of the indications of the last month, with but little variation; that would be more sunshine and more thunder showers, but the nights growing longer will counteract the heat of the sun from triumphing over the clouds. This continued wet weather is the result of an unusual amount of snow and ice lying in the north-east and north. By the newspapers we find large, long banks of snow laying on the 15th of June, in the valleys, in the State of Maine. The cold and hot air meeting thus produce a continued condensation. The atmosphere for four weeks back has been continually saturated with moisture, and very little evaporation takes place. Some years, we stated, from June to October, if the thermometer was from 45 to 60 or 65, you may be sure of rainy weather three to six days from the last day. This was verified by the storm of the 8th and 9th inst., beginning at 1 to 2 A. M., discharging an immense amount of water until 7 to 8 A. M. July 5th, 6 A. M., thermometer 60; 6th the same, 58; 7th the same, 63, and on to the 8th, preparing for discharging, 73. This is worthy of note to those whose interests rest on the weather.

Indications from July 9th to August 8th: twenty cloudy and variable, thirteen of which will be rain and nine sunshine days, with much moist, sultry heat. There no doubt will be one to two days between storms, which may be improved to gather in crops, but I would hardly expect four unrainy days in succession. G. A.

PITTSBURGH, July 15th, 1869.

Alleged Forgery.

Information was made before the Mayor yesterday morning, charging James C. Wolf with forgery. The prosecutor is the owner of a house on Tunnel street, near Wylie, and a few days since, it is alleged, Wolf negotiated for a lease of the house, representing himself to be Wm. F. McKee. The house was leased to him and he signed the name of William F. McKee to the contract. After getting possession of the house it is alleged that he placed in it as tenant a woman whose reputation for chastity is not so good as it once was. Ascertaining this fact, the prosecutor is desirous of having her removed. Wolf was arrested and locked up for a hearing.

The same prosecutor yesterday made information charging Wolf and B. H. Lubbers with conspiracy. He alleges that on the first of July Lubbers came to his store and stated that he was a liquor dealer in this city, that he had a friend in Oil City by the name of McKee, who wanted to move to the city, and he was desirous of renting him a house. On the 7th instant, he alleges that Lubbers returned, accompanied by Wolf, who he introduced as Mr. McKee, and that on that occasion a temporary agreement for the lease of the house referred to was drawn up, to which Wolf signed the name of W. F. McKee. Lubbers was arrested and they are both in the lock-up awaiting a hearing.

Very Sad Case.

We are called upon to record the sudden death of a well known citizen of our county, says the Butler Citizen, Mr. Geo. E. Kephart, who resided in Sandycreek township, just above Uniontown. On Thursday last, he was plowing during a severe thunder storm which passed over us, when he was killed by a stroke of lightning. He was alone in the field and as the rain fell very heavy, and he did not return to the house, his father became alarmed, and went to the barn to look for him. Not finding him there he proceeded to the field, where he found him lying dead in the furrow, behind the plow, and both horses lying dead in the harness as they fell. All had been killed by the same stroke. The feelings of the father cannot be imagined, much less described.

PETROLEUM AFFAIRS.

The Tionesta Republican, of this week, referring to oil operations in Forest county, says:

The excitement of a few days ago with regard to oil, stimulated by the developments on Jamieson flats, which resulted in a producing and paying well, has not abated by any means, neither has time dampened the ardor, or slackened the faith of the knowing ones with regard to the great merits of the oil fields of this portion of the Allegheny Valley. Men whose knowledge of oil districts is unlimited, who have labored in other oil fields, and are veterans in the business, having operated on Oil Creeek, at Pleasantville, Shamburg and Scrubgrass, take leases after examining the land. This much is encouraging to the people, while at the same time they claim, rightly we believe, that it is promising, and that the fields will prove profitable to those who operate. The territory leased has never been tested. There is a long space between the mouth of Tubbs' Run and Tionesta Creek which has never been tried or developed—save one well put down during the early days of the oil excitement in 1862, we have been informed, and which stood near the brick yard, on the river bank. The operations at this well were conducted in rather a primitive manner, by a pole "jumped down" one hundred and sixty feet, and pumped a short time with a hand pump, and even under such treatment as this gave signs of promise.

On the opposite side of the river from the leases above noticed, and on the Jamieson Farm, near the new well, now producing twenty-five barrels, we hear of the following leases: Four leases of five acres each, to Dunham & Co., same party that drilled the producing well. Lease to Fisher Bros., of Oil City, of five acres, one-fourth royalty. Mr. Jamieson, the proprietor of the farm on which the producing well is situated, is determined to permit only one well on every five acres, believing that the wells will last longer, and produce better, than if drilled on every acre. We think all oil territory would last longer if this course was pursued by the landholders. Messrs. Hunter & Roberts have got their derrick up at the mouth of Hunter's Run, opposite this borough, and will commence boring immediately.

The prospects in this region are encouraging, and we believe that developments now about to be commenced will demonstrate the fact that Forest county is within the "oil belt." Ever since the developments, at Shamburg, the derricks have been marching, parallel after parallel, from that point towards the Allegheny river. A few weeks ago a well was struck on the head-waters of West Hickory, in the edge of this county, and a number of wells are producing there, and many more going down, and the tide is still moving down that stream towards the river. The well on the Allegheny river, near this place, will create confidence among operators, and we shall see derricks springing up around us and shall have the river territory developed. We have faith to believe that the result will be favorable.

A Parker's Landing correspondent writes on the 25th ult., as follows: There are now in this vicinity twenty-five producing wells, making three hundred and ten barrels of oil daily; seventeen wells drilling and twenty-two wells rigging—sixty-four in all: the excitement is becoming greater every day, and new enterprises are of daily occurrence. The four new wells tested the beginning of the present month are the best here—producing as follows: Allegheny well, forty barrels; Pittsburgh and Parker's Landing, thirty barrels; Bark House, twenty-five barrels, and Peerless, twenty barrels each daily. The Graham Landing well on the east side of the Allegheny river, tested this week, is going ten barrels per day and improving. A torpedo was inserted in the Pittsburgh and Tam's Run No. 1 well this week, and improved it from a thirteen barrel well to twenty-five barrels daily. The Red Bank well, two months ago only six barrels, is to-day twenty barrels. Two of the wells tested this month are small but paying expenses and improving: no dry holes.

At Shamburg yesterday, the O'Hara and McFarland well, on the Shamburg property, struck a fine vein of green oil, and was, at latest accounts, pumping two hundred and fifty barrels per day.

In explaining several heavy errors which appeared in its last monthly report, the Titusville Herald says:

We are unable to present in this issue the revised shipments from the region during June, as we have not yet obtained accurately the shipment to Cleveland by the A. & G. W. Railway from Oil City, but what we have learned goes to confirm the estimate of that shipment given by us yesterday.

In collecting the shipments from Oil City by the above mentioned route, we, as usual, took them from the agent's book, which purported to contain the total shipment for each day both to New York and Cleveland. We copied the shipment, and after deducting 36 car loads of 80 barrels each, which the agent informed us was previously reported, and reducing the remainder to barrels of forty five gallons each, (we have been informed all along that Cleveland cars are gauged and billed at forty-three gallons to the barrel), published it. We did not question the reliability or accuracy of the shipment by this route, as previously we had found, by all the statistics we could bring to bear, that the shipment for all other months were substantially correct. The shipment to Cleveland, as copied from the agent's book, then aggregated 83,563 barrels, and has not been altered since. From the aggregate mentioned, thirty-six cars of eighty barrels each which were previously reported, were deducted, leaving 80,683 barrels of forty-three gallons as the shipments to Cleveland, or as we printed it, 77,098 barrels of forty-five gallons each.

It now appears that in transferring the shipment from the manifest book to the book from which we copied it the shipment for one day was omitted and other errors were made, all of which will aggregate 23,000 to 25,000 barrels.

The total shipment by way of Corry was 5,185 barrels of forty-five gallons, while we reported but 2,157 barrels, showing a discrepancy of three thousand and twenty-eight barrels. If this shipment was all reported to us, we, in copying from the reports furnished us, overlooked the three thousand barrels not given.

Little Boy Drowned.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock, a number of little children were playing on a raft moored in the Ohio river, near the old Pork House, below Wood's Run, when one of their number, Charley Smith, aged about ten years, fell in and was drowned. His parents reside in the immediate vicinity, and were attracted by the cries of the affrighted children, as they saw their playmate sink beneath the water. Mr. Smith ran to the place, but when he arrived the little victim had gone down the third time, and failed to rise again. The river in the vicinity was dragged, and after about an hour and a half's work, the body was recovered. It was removed to the house of its parents, the Coroner summoned, and an inquest held, when a verdict of accidental drowning was rendered.

A Facetious Youth in Trouble—The Result of a Joke.

On Wednesday afternoon a neatly dressed young man, bearing a respectable appearance, called at the ladies' window of the Pittsburgh Postoffice, and in response to an inquiry received a little white missive, addressed to Miss F. A. Ells. There seemed to be nothing extraordinary in the occurrence itself, but the subsequent effects were somewhat peculiar. The recipient, who smiled with satisfaction as he glanced at the chirography on the envelope, had scarcely turned away from the window when he was accosted by an uniformed city official, who exhibited a small slip of paper requiring his immediate presence at the Allegheny Mayor's office. The surprised youth at first seemed to be at a loss to understand the strange proceeding, but his perceptions were quickened when informed by the official of certain circumstances connected with his present detention, requiring an explanation which he alone could give. He went quietly along, therefore, and at the Mayor's office was made acquainted with the following facts: About four days before, a young lady connected with one of the most respectable families of Allegheny and moving in the highest circles, received a note postmarked Pittsburgh. Enclosed were circulars giving the names of a large number of obscene publications, accompanied by an explanatory statement from the unknown correspondent, who claimed to be a lady, to the effect that she was an agent for the sale of the books, and had been informed by a friend that, possibly, the recipient of the note might wish to make a purchase. The young lady immediately exhibited the communication to her father, who, fired with wrath, at once visited the Allegheny Mayor's office and instituted measures to detect the writer. Chief Bowden manipulated the affair and did it well. He first wrote a reply and placed it in the Pittsburgh office, addressed to Miss F. A. Ells, [the signature to the note], at the same time acquainting the Postmaster of the circumstances. An officer was then stationed on guard in the vicinity, and after remaining for several days, was rewarded by the apprehension of the young man, as stated.

The youth at first seemed abashed at the suspicions which caused his arrest, but nevertheless stoutly maintained that he knew nothing at all of the facts, as related to him. His exceeding dullness of comprehension, however, was quickly dissipated when the Mayor was about to send him to the tombs to await a hearing on the charge preferred against him, and he forthwith acknowledged to writing the note, but claimed it to be "only a joke." He had seen a list of the books in a newspaper, and in a spirit of facetiousness had written for a catalogue. When this was received in the same peculiarly humorous spirit he had selected a few of the oddest names, wrote the note and forwarded the missive which had been received by the young lady. He meant no harm though. Did not not know the character of the books, and was only amused and led into the perpetration of the joke by the oddness of the names. This was his statement, which he delivered with an air of injured innocence and with becoming gravity. Unfortunately, the magistrate failed to understand the funny part of the joke, but seemed inclined to view it as a rather serious matter. The more he reflected upon it the less he saw to laugh at and finally to gain time for further consideration he required the young joker to give bail in the sum of $500 for a hearing next Monday on a charge of selling and circulating indecent publications. He is a young man, connected with one of the best and wealthiest families of Allegheny, and has heretofore borne a good reputation, none of his acquaintances or most intimate companions ever having suspected him of such chronic wit or humor, as his statement would indicate. Monday, however, will perhaps throw additional light upon this characteristic of his nature, and in the meantime and hereafter, whatever may be the result of the present attempt, he will doubtless be more careful in his jokes.

Fresh Importation of Celebrated London Chemical Preparations.

Mr. Simon Johnson, the well known and leading druggist of this city, whose extensive and well stocked house is at the corner of Fourth avenue and Smithfield street, has just received by the steamer "Helvetia" a large and fresh importation of celebrated London chemical preparations, to which we invite the attention of our readers. Mr. Johnston has been highly successful in introducing into general favor and use these world known preparations, and has secured for their sale the sole agency in this city. The present importation embraces:

Squire's Granular Ef. Potassa, 500 lbs.
Squire's Granular Ef. Bromide Potassa, 50 lbs.
Squire's Granular Ef. Iodide Potassa, 25 lbs.
Squire's Granular Ef. Bromide Ammonium, 20 lbs.
Squire's Granular Ef. Citrate of Iron and Quinine, 25 lbs.
Squire's Granular Ef. Carbonate Littria, 10 lbs.
Rimmel's Extracts.
Browne's Chlorodyne.
Breckwell's Skin Soap.
Cockle's Anti-Bilious Pills.
Brockedous Soda Pills.
Colman's Mustard, 2,000 lbs, in ¼, ½, 1 and 10 lb. cans.

The preparations come fresh from the foreign laboratories, and on that account are specially inviting. The general stock of drugs, standard patent medicines, toilet articles, pure medicinal liquors, foreign and American perfumeries, and the general goods which go to make up the full line of such well conducted and first-class establishments. Mr. Johnston devotes special attention and much care to the pharmaceutical departments, and physicians prescriptions are accurately compounded at all hours of the day and night. It is scarcely necessary in this community, where Mr. Johnston has so long been engaged in the retail drug business as to be inseparably conected with it in the thoughts of all, to commend him as a gentleman eminently worthy public confidence and patronage.
